UNEMPLOYMENT REPORT SPLITS ON ROCK OF WAGES

Majority: "Must Fall"; Minority: "Stay Up."

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—That neither commodity prices nor wage rates can be maintained above the natural economic level is asserted in a statement issued by the employer members of President Harding's conference on unemployment today upon the final adjournment of the conference. They declare that prices and wages rose substantially during the war, but that since that time prices have declined more rapidly than wages.

"The drastic economic adjustment through which we must pass in establishing new prices and values for goods and services knows no favor," says the statement. "Employers and employees, manufacturers, merchants, distributors, transporters, all must meet them."

"No Reduction," Labor Rejoinder.
A flat declaration against any general policy of wage reduction is contained in minority views of the labor members of the subcommittee on manufacturing, signed by Samuel Gompers, Mrs. Sara A. Conboy, and Roy Dickinson.

"On the contrary there must be a policy calling for the highest possible rate of wages in every industry," says the report in opposing any general wage reduction. "In terms of industry, this means the adoption of a policy of placing in the hands of all the people the highest average of buying power in order that there may be the greatest possible consumption of commodities, and the greatest possible consequent demand for the production of commodities. Reduction of buying power stops purchases, which inevitably stops manufacturing and creates unemployment."

Demands Free Exchange of Services.
The employers maintain that their principal difficulty is a high and unbalanced cost of production which is keeping goods and services beyond the buying power of consumers. The condition cannot be bettered, it is declared, "until each of us recognizes it as a fact and does his part, individually and collectively, to restore a free exchange of commodities and services upon such terms that we may reciprocally benefit each other's products."

The government can do its part, it is stated, by setting the cost of business operation represented in taxation, quickly, simply, and intelligently. The majority report of the committee on manufacturing, which was also made public, contains far-reaching recommendations affecting railroad questions. It urges the repeal of the Adamson act, transfer of the functions of the railroad labor board to the interstate commerce commission, and prompt passage of the pending railroad funding bill.

Differ on Railroad Suggestions.
The minority report written by Mr. Gompers, besides declaring against a policy of wage reduction, opposes repeal of the Adamson act, abolition of the railroad labor board and the railroad funding bill in its present form. The recommendation by the manufacturers for the repeal of the Adamson act is denounced as an effort to break down the eight hour work day. Abolition of the railroad labor board, it is asserted, would remove the only responsible governmental agency to which the workers may present their claims.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover was authorized to appoint a permanent committee to consider some of the work started in motion by the conference. One phase of its work was outlined in a report from the organization committee on the subject of unemployment and business cycles. This report suggests that the question of preventing periodical recurrence of acute unemployment conditions be further studied.

For Unemployment Reserves.
It is suggested that railroads, public utilities, and others systematically put aside financial reserves to be used for expanding their equipment during times of depression. By placing aside a reserve of 10 per cent of the annual amount spent for construction, it was declared, the use of this fund in times of depression would prevent acute unemployment conditions.

Regular Regiments, Now Mere Skeleton Organizations, Hike Into Chicago

The howitzer company of the Third infantry on the march. Like most of the regiments in this country, the Third is merely a skeleton. The howitzer company is one of the few regimental units which has been maintained as an organization.

The soldiers are "hiking" the entire distance. They were accompanied as far as Chicago by the Second infantry, which will be left at Fort Sheridan.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13.—Neither commodity prices nor wage rates can be maintained above the natural economic level, according to a statement issued by the employer members of President Harding's conference on unemployment, which adjourns today. Labor members' minority report flatly opposes any general policy of wage reduction. Secretary Hoover authorized to appoint a permanent committee to continue some of the work started by the conference.

Irreconcilable senators endeavor to fill gap in their ranks caused by the death of Senator Knox. Senator Poinsett is their candidate for the vacancy on the foreign relations committee.

Ratification of the peace treaties will be delayed until next week, probably until Wednesday, as a result of Senator Knox's death.

With no official London advice as to the personnel of the British delegation to the Washington conference it was stated today that one delegate will be the Hon. George Foster Pearce of Australia, who sailed today for Vancouver.

Home brewed dooms by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, who orders raids on dealers in malt, hops, and other ingredients and the confiscating of goods and utensils for the home manufacture of beer and wine.

Formation of additional live stock loan companies to aid in the financing of the industry in cooperation with the war finance corporation is urged, according to Eugene Meyer, managing director of the corporation.

Final action on the tax bill in the senate now seems unlikely before week after next.

Col. William Joseph Simmons, imperial wizard, collapsed on the stand during the congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan. Senator Watson, Georgia, insisted on appearing in the wizard's behalf.

tion of a just economic balance between agriculture and other industries in tariff legislation.

The report of the committee on mining in discussing the bituminous coal situation holds that the problem is primarily one of car supply and transportation.

The committee on emergency public works on reclamation recommends that reclamation developments be continued more intensively during the winter 1921-1922 and that the congress give immediate consideration to a loan to the reclamation fund for prosecuting projects already under way. It is stated that an appropriation of $16,200,000 for expenditures for projects under way would provide employment for 16,000 the coming winter, and that an additional appropriation of $28,000,000 would provide employment for 28,000 more, permitting work on four new projects.

Soldiers in Camp

The 3d United States Infantry, the oldest regular army organization in America, arrived in Chicago yesterday en route from Camp Sherman, O., to Fort Snelling, Minn. This is one of the longest hikes ever undertaken by a regular army outfit. The 2d infantry, which will leave the column at Fort Sheridan tomorrow, is marching with the 3d.

The two organizations are barely skeletons, averaging about 200 enlisted men each. They left Camp Sherman on Aug. 11, marching 170 miles to Camp Perry, where they remained during the national rifle meet. Late in September they started west. Wednesday night they spent in East Chicago. Last night they camped in Grant park and tonight they will stop in Evanston.

The history of the 3d dates back to the days of George Washington. The organization was formed in 1792, the original order being signed by President Washington. During its 130 years of service the regiment has served actively in every war except the world war. It was selected by the government as one of the training regiments and from its station in Texas it sent more than 4,000 trained soldiers overseas.

MORMONS MUST SUPPORT THEIR PLURAL WIVES

Salt Lake City, Oct. 13.—Any members of the Mormon church who may have plural wives still living should be compelled to support them, declared Judge Page Morris, Minnesota federal judge, who is temporarily presiding in the federal court here, during arguments today in a case involving the plural wives of John Beck, deceased Utah mining magnate.

Mrs. Bertha Goss Beck, polygamist wife, is seeking a division of property. The legality of her plural marriage is the basis of the suit. Mormon history, the former and present extent of polygamy practice and the testimony of high church officials and Utah capitalists feature the hearings.

RISKS LIFE IN LEAKY BOAT TO SAVE CANOEIST

Arrives as Man Is Sinking Half Mile Off Shore.

While scores of persons looked on helplessly or telephoned for police and life savers, a young athlete risked his life in a leaky rowboat yesterday to save Harold Hickok, 35 years old, an office employe at the Shedd Aquarium, from drowning in the lake.

A strong gust of wind overturned Hickok's canoe a half mile off shore at the foot of Granville avenue. Among those attracted by his cries for help was Edwin C. Ewing Jr., 30 years old, 1057 Pratt boulevard, a student at Lewis Institute and son of Edwin C. Ewing, manager of the National Life Insurance building, 29 South La Salle street.

Arrives Just in Time.
Hickok, apparently unable to swim, clung with one hand to the bottom of the canoe. On the shore watchers wondered what to do. Ewing acted. He ran up the beach until he found the old row boat and discovered an ancient pair of oars, shoved the boat off alone, and rowed to Hickok's aid.

He reached the canoe just as Hickok, numb from half an hour in the chilling water, lost his grip on the oars and was sinking. After dragging Hickok into the boat he had to stop rowing twice on the way to the shore to bail out the leaky boat.

Rogers Park police took Hickok to his home, where he is confined to his bed. Ewing, none the worse for his experience, walked to his home.

Anxious to See Credit Given.
The first report of the rescue to THE TRIBUNE came from an unidentified woman. "I want to see that the young man gets the credit," she telephoned. "I don't know who he is, but his was a very valiant act."

Later members of the Evanston coast guard, commanded by Capt. Charles Carland, reported finding an overturned canoe off North Shore avenue, Rogers Park. They feared the occupant or occupants had been drowned and conducted a search for bodies until told the canoe probably belonged to Hickok.

Harding May Visit with Shriners at San Francisco

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—President Harding today told a committee of Shriners that he hoped to accept their invitation to attend the meeting of the imperial council of the order in San Francisco next June, but was uncertain whether he would be able to do so. It has been indicated that he would visit the Golden Gate city if he finds it possible to make his projected trip to Alaska during next summer.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Community markets that flourish here may soon rejoice. Chicago. The committee of Chicago aldermen touring the west to investigate transportation, high cost of living, and other conditions were enthusiastic today in their praise of this city's system of marketing, and Sheldon W. Govier, chairman of the committee, declared that a similar system might be worked out for Chicago. The aldermen took a trip to Catalina as guests of William Wrigley Jr.

It is an easy matter for you to step into one of the Capper & Capper stores and pick out just the sort of a suit you want from among those we have gathered together here for men like you.

Gathering them together here for you isn't so easy. Our standards of style and quality are so high that we have to comb the market for clothing that represents our ideas.

Much of it we have to have made to get it "Capperish."

For some we draw on foreign markets and makers. We leave no stone turned to offer the finest garments that can be produced. And they must not cost too much.

But it's a joyous task; joyous in the achievement of our purpose, and in the satisfaction our success in it seems to be giving to hosts of men that enjoy added touches of good dress.

Our $45 suits are one of the greatest "joys" we've had in a long time—they are so much for so little.

CORN FOR FUEL IN MIDDLE WEST IT'S SO CHEAP

Windom, Minn., Oct. 13.—With corn at 25 cents a bushel the city of Windom will use it for fuel at the municipal power plant, it was declared today. Many farmers have announced an intention to burn corn instead of coal this winter.

It's 16 Cents a Bushel.

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—New corn on the cob is selling as low as 16 cents a bushel in some north Nebraska towns. Old shelled corn dropped to 25 cents a bushel here today.

Trade Corn for Coal.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 13.—Some farmers in widely scattered parts of Nebraska say they contemplate burning corn as fuel this winter, according to reports reaching here. There have also been some isolated instances where farmers have traded corn for coal, these reports say.

Won't Burn Their Grain.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 13.—South Dakota farmers do not intend to burn their corn crops, due to low prices, in spite of widespread talk of their doing so, according to a canvass of several counties in the corn belt.

Cheaper than Coal Here.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 13.—W. F. Hubbard, Iowa county agricultural agent with headquarters in Council Bluffs, Ia., today predicted that Iowa farmers would burn corn as fuel instead of coal as soon as the weather got colder. Iowa farmers were contracting to sell corn at $5.40 a ton, whereas a ton of good coal costs them from $11 to $11.50, Mr. Hubbard said.

GUILTY

MRS. EMMA R. BURKETT.

New York, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Emma R. Burkett of Hilledale, Ind., today was found guilty by a jury in general sessions court of forging the name of present President Theodore Roosevelt to a note for $69,900.

The jury, which deliberated four and one-half hours, recommended her to the extreme clemency of the court. Judge Alfred J. Talley announced he would impose sentence Oct. 21.

Mrs. Burkett attempted to collect on the forged note, which she claimed Col. Roosevelt signed in Chicago at the time of the 1915 convention. Mrs. Burkett swooned when the verdict was announced and had to be assisted back to her cell in the Tombs by court attendants.

GREAT SECRECY SHROUDS PARLEY ON IRISH PEACE

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The third session of the Irish peace conference was held today at 10 Downing street, and another will be held tomorrow. That is the extent of the information officially available, and it is universally regarded as good news. If the same can be said at the end of next week the successful issue of the conference is practically certain.

The whole British delegation was present today. J. Austen Chamberlain having recovered from his illness, and it was learned that the hour and a half during which the session lasted was devoted to a discussion of the work of the committee appointed at the last session to discuss breaches of the truce.

The question of the treatment of Irishmen interned in camps and held in jails and Irish demands for their release were also discussed, but so far as can be learned no decision was reached.

Irish Insist on Secrecy.

There has never been a peace conference at which greater secrecy was observed than in this. The Irish, who talk loudly about Wilsonian doctrines, are no greater believers in open diplomacy than former President Wilson himself in practice. They were furiously angry at the publication of the fact that a committee on breaches of the truce had been appointed, and today they accused the British of having violated their pledge of secrecy.

The Irish delegates are hiding away in their Chelsea house, refusing to see any one, and their publicity department professes to know nothing of what has happened.

After today's meeting a rumor got around the London club that Michael Collins declared he was not returning to Downing street. It was based on a reply to a questioner as he left the prime minister's official residence. The secretary asked: "Are you coming back?" He replied, "I am not coming back," and on this the rumor of the break up of the conference was based.

As a matter of fact, I am told that relations of increasing cordiality are being established and every meeting marks progress.

Dublin Grows Optimistic.

THE TRIBUNE'S Dublin correspondent wires that there is growing optimism in Dublin as to the success of the conference.

A leading Dublin man to whom I talked here today said that the Sinn Féin leaders have told their friends that they are going to settle the problem if it is at all possible.

Mr. de Valera's manifesto on the eve of the conference was explained as being intended to keep the extremists quiet and to prevent any appearance of disunion in Ireland during the conference.

EX-WAR SURGEON AND KIN CHARGED WITH TORTURING SIX PHYSICIANS TESTIFY AGAINST 'FAIR BLUEBEARD'

When they failed to appear in the Maxwell street police court yesterday to answer charges of assault with intent to kill made by Mamie McCray, Negro servant, capias were issued against Dr. George U. Lipschulch, who served in the medical corps overseas during the war; his wife, and their two sons, Jehiel and Cesar.

The Negroes, who says that she was sent to the Lipschulch home at 4201 West Roosevelt road by an employment agency to do washing, charges that Dr. Lipschulch, his family, and a chauffeur beat and tortured her for four hours in an attempt to force her to confess to theft of jewelry worth $3,000.

The state's case is practically closed. Tomorrow, however, the court will settle the question of the state's right to introduce testimony respecting the circumstances of death in the case of Mrs. Southard's three former husbands and a brother-in-law.

'CO-OP' FRIENDS CHEER ARREST OF FORMER FOE

Parker Asserts Missing
Bonds Are on Way.

Two mysteries fogged the bankruptcy hearing of the Cooperative Society of America yesterday. The principal underlying event was the arrest of Henry M. Ashton, 564 Oakwood boulevard, the lawyer of record representing creditors in the first suit filed against the Cooperative society. Ashton and Joseph Levy, a broker, 6535 Merrill avenue, were placed in the Chicago house station on charges of operating a confidence game. They were held in bonds of $50,000.

The arrests are not directly connected with the bankruptcy investigation, according to Ralph W. Woodbury, attorney for P. V. Persons, head of the instant Heating company, on whose complaint the two were held.

"This is the result of my fight on the Cooperative Society of America," said Attorney Ashton, last night. "I was merely the attorney for Levy, who sold $45,000 worth of stock in the heating company to Persons for $28,000. The stock had belonged to W. D. Johnson, a former president, now in California. Persons had paid $19,000 to my client through Foreman Brothers' bank, when this absurd arrest came."

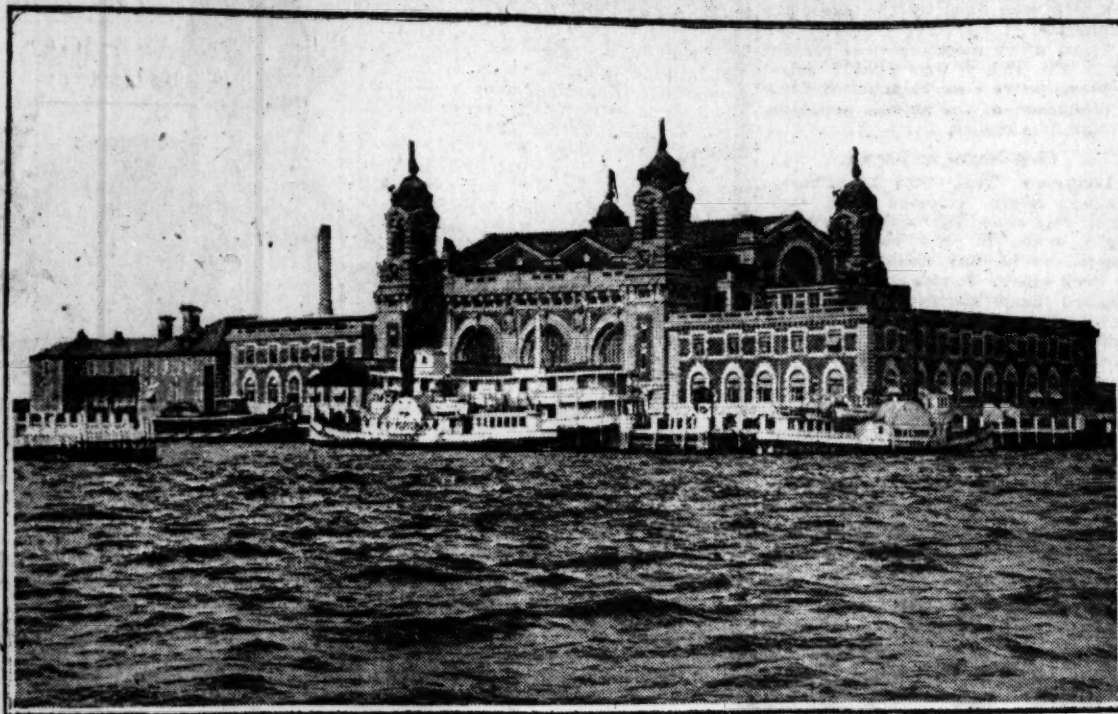

What interest the Cooperative Society of America has in Ashton's arrest, has not been explained, although Ashton, Harrison Parker, trustee of the organization, learning of the lawyer's trouble, interrupted the bankruptcy hearing by exclamations of elation and thumping one another on the back.

Still Seeking the Bonds.

Mystery No. 2 is the whereabouts of more than $2,000,000 in Liberty bonds and other securities belonging to the society and so far not located. "Please tell us where these securities are," demanded Julius Moses, attorney for the receiver, at the hearing. Parker, who had earlier in the day thrown down on the table stocks, bonds, and notes having a face value of $7,000,000, turned to his questioner. "I don't know," said Parker. "But they will be here tomorrow (Friday) morning. I feel certain they will be." "But who's got them?" asked Moses. "I don't know."

Attorney Moses then asked if C. C. Higgins, a relative by marriage of

WHERE IMMIGRANTS UNDERGO HARDSHIPS

Parker and vice president of the Great Western Security company, an auxiliary concern, had the bonds. Parker declared he didn't know where Higgins is or whether he is en route to Chicago.

"The bonds are in transit," he repeated. "They will be here at 11:30 tomorrow." He said he felt certain the bonds were being sent from New York. He denied he had instructed any one to get them.

"Isn't it a fact," persisted the attorney, "that each time you got a loan from Mr. Higgins you were forced to deliver to him the bonds on which he raised the money?"

"Yes," said Parker. Mrs. Edith S. Parker, wife of the trustee, who was expected to appear yesterday and turn over bonds variously estimated at $2,219,000 to $2,600,000, failed to arrive. Subscribers Behind in Payments. That subscribers—of which there are an estimated 100,000 in Chicago—are approximately $12,000,000 in default in their payments was the testimony of Walter B. Cregier, accountant, who added that he was engaged in a two months' auditing of the society's books. Attorney David K. Tons was accused by Parker in a statement to newspaper men of "fishing for four or five months to wreck the cooperative society." "The present hearing will be dropped," he said. "But I assure you that within five days another suit will be brought against us that will not succeed any more than this one." "There's no intention of dropping this suit," said Tons. The hearing will be resumed this morning.

PACKAGE MAKERS ELECT. H. P. Marvill of Laurel, Del., was elected president of the National Basket and Fruit Package Manufacturers' association at the closing session of their convention yesterday. Other officers are: J. K. Jarrell, Humboldt, Tenn., vice president; A. L. Church, Brunswick, Ga., second vice president; George W. Talbot, Bloomington, Ind., treasurer; and G. L. Barden, Penn Yan, N. Y., secretary.

An Open Letter to REV. WILLIAM BURGESS and the Illinois Vigilance Assn.

FIGHT ON "WIGGLE DANCES" PLANNED

"Vigilantes" Urge Return to Old Time Steps.

Unsanitary and immoral dancing is to be attacked in a state wide campaign to raise social morality to be opened by the Illinois Vigilance association about Dec. 12.

"Our object is to bring back dancing," declared the Rev. William Burgess, executive secretary of the association, "and substitute it for the 'one spot wiggle' that reigns today."

The campaign, as the Rev. Mr. Burgess explained it, will be to get back to 100 per cent American morals—clean, decent amusements. The association is against the "blue laws" and Puritan rigidity, he said.

Young People's Problem "We shall appeal to the consciences of men and women, of fathers and mothers," he continued. "There is more to be done by educating the conscience than by the enactment of mere legislation. We have enough laws; what we need is the cooperation of the people."

"It is a young people's problem and they will solve it if a new spirit is invoked and education is furnished for the true American ideal."

Speakers and conferences, talks at public gatherings, and in schools will be the method used in the campaign.

At the same time, the National Association of Ball Room Proprietors and Managers is planning a "Clean Dance Week" for Chicago, Nov. 23 to Dec. 4.

Thank Heaven for an awakening of understanding.

Every word in the article reproduced herewith is golden to me.

I am a teacher of dancing and conduct a public ballroom and after eight years of fighting against indecent dancing—eight years of ridicule and scorn; eight years devoted to screaming a warning to apparently heedless ears—this evidence that men and women who have at heart the welfare of our youth are really approaching the problem in a sane, calm manner is priceless.

I believe, too, that many thinking men and women will agree with you that education, rather than legislation, is the remedy. To me it is evident that any attempt to legislate decency and modesty into the hearts of boys and girls, or men and women must fail. I note there is an effort on foot to provide an ordinance regulating public ballrooms. But public ballrooms will be CLEAN only when there is a sincere desire on the part of their proprietors to make them clean and keep them so. Such a desire will do more to remedy dancing practice than a hundred ordinances or statutes.

You will be told it is not possible to conduct, with profit, a public ball, room without permitting these dance perversions. But I point out to you the fact that, in the face of a world apparently gone jazz mad, I have and am conducting one of the largest and most profitable ballrooms in the country in which jazz music and jazz dancing never have been allowed or taught.

tions, tradition—the eager boys and girls overcome them all in their zeal to get to America. But there is one obstacle before which even the bravest shudder, the ordeal of Ellis island. All their superstitious fear of ghosts and witches, and all their practical fear of the "Gombeen" man are insignificant in comparison with the fright they have of "The Island" as they call the opening portal to the new land of freedom.

But the lads are brave and the girls courageous. So, even the terrors of "The Island," described to them in appalling letters from across the water, do not prevent them from taking the preliminary steps and they are many, in the long journey from Wexford, Ireland, to New York City.

Tomorrow's article will tell in detail just what the Irish girl must do before she gets her passport for the United States.

PROTEST ON ELLIS ISLAND

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, Oct. 13.—The British government has made formal protest to Washington about the treatment of British immigrants at Ellis island under the new immigration law. It has not protested at the limitation of immigration, fully recognizing that it is none of its business, but it has protested at the treatment accorded some of the immigrants under the present Ellis island administration.

For instance, one case mentioned is that of a young couple of good social position who, with their baby, were herded for days in a pen with filthy immigrants and refused even a hearing by the officials. The state department has not yet answered the note, but when the answer comes it probably will be published with the original complaint in the form of a report to parliament.

The British are particularly anxious to make it clear that they are not complaining at the principle of the quota, but only at the application. The government has not complained, but the steamship companies have, of the system, by which it is impossible to know until the ship arrives whether the quota for the month is full or not.

Child Gets $60,000 for Loss of Both Her Hands

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Thirty thousand for each lost hand—a total verdict of $60,000—was awarded today to Rose Cattini, 8, whose hands were cut off more than a year ago when a truck of the American Railway Express company ran across her wrists. Rose was "making mud pies" on the sidewalk, she told the jury, when the heavy truck crossed the curb, catching her hands beneath its wheels. Suit was brought against the express company for $100,000.

WIZARD FAINTS DEFENDING KLAN AT U. S. HEARING

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—The Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, Col. William Joseph Simmons, brought the defense of the organization to a dramatic climax by collapsing on the witness stand today before the house rules committee.

He complained of tonsillitis and bronchitis when he took the stand yesterday and he resumed his testimony this morning with a huge purple muffler wound about his neck. He spoke with more than usual fervor when he was bringing his statement to a close. When he had finished he was seized with violent nausea and sank into a chair, apparently in a state of collapse.

As Klanmen gathered about him he rallied enough to say he was ready to submit to cross-examination, but the chairman decided to call the inquiry off for the day. If Col. Simmons is able he will be placed under cross-examination tomorrow.

"Watson to the Rescue."

Another exciting incident of the session was an unexpected invasion of the hearing room by Senator Tom Watson, the stormy petrel of Georgia politics, who demanded the right to question Col. Simmons, and informed the committee that he was going to see that the Imperial Wizard had fair play.

Chairman Campbell opposed having "outsiders" question the witness, and the senator replied:

"But I am not an outsider; I am a United States senator."

Col. Simmons tried to calm him, and Chairman Campbell said:

"I think you may ask your question."

"Well, I won't claim my rights here," Senator Watson cried, "but I will when this thing gets to the United States senate. I want to ask this witness, to whose order I do not belong, but which I propose to defend, if he does not know that congress is creating dozens of offices and employing officers at $15,000 and $35,000 salaries, all of which comes of the taxpayers' pockets."

Col. Simmons did not know. Then Senator Watson left.

Asserts He's Threatened.

Col. Simmons repeated his assertion of yesterday that if the charges against the Klan were proved he would disband it. He denied that the Klan was the author of threatening letters. On the contrary, he stated, he has received hundreds of letters threatening him with death.

"I don't believe those letters came from the Klan," he issued from the Klan," he said. "I do not believe the Klan wants to kill its own wizard."

Discussing the membership restrictions, Col. Simmons said:

"I want to state emphatically, and in the fear of God, that the Klan is not an anti-Catholic order."

"But you do not permit Catholics to join," Representative Rodenberg, Republican (Ill.), said.

Says Klan Is Tolerant.

"That is true, but the Knights of Columbus only admits Catholics," he replied. "We antagonize no man's religion. I have heard of only one case where a kiegale circulated anti-Catholic propaganda, and he was instantly discharged."

"We are not anti-Jewish. Any Jew who can subscribe to the tenets of the Christian religion can get in. We are not anti-Negro. Scores of other fraternal organizations will not admit Negroes. We are not anti-foreign born; we merely require that members must be native born Americans."

Declares Wright Traitor.

Col. Simmons said Caesar had his Brutus and Washington his Benedict Arnold, while he [Simmons] had his C. Anderson Wright, former Imperial kiegale.

The wizard charged Wright, prior to bum checks at Houston, Texas."

"You mean to say that Wright issued fraudulent checks?" Rodenberg asked.

"That's my impression," Simmons replied.

Says Klan Has $90,000.

Through the testimony of Mr. Simmons, the committee learned that the total membership of the Klan, heralded as having passed the half million mark, actually was around $90,000. The witness declared that its growth east and west had been greater than in the south. Denying huge profits from the sale of robes, the witness declared that less than 30 per cent of the Klanmen owned regalia.

Representative Garrett, Democrat, Tennessee, questioned the witness on revenues and profits, asking if membership fees had been listed as donations rather than fees to prevent collection of federal corporation taxes. Simmons replied there was never a thought of that, declaring that when the tax law first became effective, he had wanted to the revenue office at Atlanta and was informed that the Klan did not come under the law.

The wizard said his salary of $1,000 a month was fixed by the executive committee.

"How many members were present when the salary was fixed?" asked Representative Fess, Republican, Ohio.

"Fourteen of the sixteen members, I think," he replied.

Flog Negro as Peeper.

Longview, Tex., Oct. 13.—Charles Hagler, Negro, employé of a local hotel, was seized by masked men last night, taken to the country, and flogged so he was unable to return to work today. It was understood the masked band charged Hagler with having "peeped" into homes of citizens here.

Forty-six to Testify.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 13.—Forty-six persons subpoenaed to appear before the McLennan county grand jury investigating the fight incident to a Ku Klux Klan parade at Lorena Oct. 1, had registered today.

JAPS' CHIEF AIM TO STIFLE U. S. POWER IN EAST

Start Tomorrow Ready to Yield All Else.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
HONOLULU, Oct. 13.—A Tokyo dispatch to the Nippon Jiji states that the imperial diplomatic advisory board, meeting at the home of Premier Hara, has declared that Japan is willing to dissolve the Anglo-Japanese alliance if the Washington conference can effect an agreement between the United States, Japan, and Great Britain with terms that are effective and binding.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
TOKIO, Oct. 13.—Japan's delegates to the Washington conference will leave for America on Saturday with no program, they being purely on the defensive. Although the feeling here is that Nippon will be under fire, the delegates, following a meeting of the diplomatic advisory council today, were instructed to utilize all honorable efforts for conciliation.

Three Jap Aims.

Japan will treat the issues under three headings:

1. Full accomplishment, which the Japanese will strive to eliminate from the discussion.

2. Extension of the scope of the conference, the Japanese being willing to agree to extensions which are agreeable to the other delegates.

3. The Japanese are prepared to submit interests previously acquired in instances upon them prevents an understanding on the limitation of armaments, which is foremost in their minds.

Cling to Army.

The final instructions were handed today to the delegates at a dinner given by Crown Prince Hirohito, which Premier Hara attended. As to forts and the navy, the Japs are willing to reduce

GOLDEN YEARS

Today they will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in their Chicago home.

FIFTY years ago today Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Olson, 2817 North Christiana, avenue, were married in Chicago. They have lived in this city ever since and here their ten children, of whom four sons and four daughters are still living, were brought up.

Friends and relatives will join today in congratulating the "bride and groom" at a reception to be held in the family home.

or retard their building program proportionately with like action on the part of the other powers, but as to a small army they show less inclination, they being backed in this respect by the firm stand of the French.

Japan's chief hope in the conference lies not so much in fewer warships as in the abandonment of the Pacific fortifications. Herein lies the difficulty of what America is likely to feel is a clever move for a real Japanese advantage over the superiority of the American navy.

Keys to Naval Power.

This question is very involved. According to the best analysis of the situation, what Japan really wants is not so much a reduction of armaments and navies as to induce America to abandon its idea of fortifying Guam and to reduce the fortifications in Hawaii and the Philippines. This involves danger of complications, since these are vital to the protection of American economic interests in the orient, with out which the navy is impotent, no matter how superior, owing to the distance from its home bases.

In return for the reductions indicated, Japan is willing to forego certain fortifications. These are: First, the Bonins, which emplacements for big guns have been laid and a military aviation field planned; second, the Loo Choo, where Okinawa. Oshima island has been placed in the fortified zone and surveys are now being made and, third, the Pescadores, where the defenses consist of six six-inch guns. The Pescadores are incapable of heavy fortifications, except at prohibitive cost. The other defenses of Japan are of a purely coastal nature.

Should an agreement be reached on this basis the American fleet will be restricted to operations west of Hawaii, while Japan will be limited to a 2,000 mile radius from its own shores.

If the agreement is made on this basis it will leave America powerless to protect its interests in the Pacific while making Japan absolute master. Herein lies the crux of the whole disarmament problem and hence Japan's feeling that it is safe in Asiatic control only so long as the United States has no bases west of Hawaii.

As to Shantung, Japan is willing, since China refuses to negotiate, to leave the question either to President Harding's arbitration, or, if necessary, to the conference. It prefers the first to a real test of sincerity, while in the latter event comes the danger of meeting the objections of the other powers and engendering bad feeling. For instance, should Great Britain appear on the side of the American view, citing the twenty-one demands on China, the Japanese might retaliate by citing Great Britain's twelve demands on China regarding Tibet. Therefore Japan sincerely wishes to avoid the danger of this phase coming before the conference.

Finally, Japan wishes to curtail its armament expense and at the same time either reach an agreement with America regarding the Japanese sphere of influence in the orient or by the reduction of bases give the Japanese navy the mastery therein. On all other questions Japan is eager to make reasonable concessions in the interest of harmony, but it still entertains doubts as to the sincerity of American motives in the orient. It feels that America is displaying an aggressive attitude which can only be removed by the reduction of the Pacific fortifications.

LONDON VIEW OF JAPS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Japan's plan for disarmament, which it will present at the Washington conference, is that the three naval powers shall agree to scrap or cease building capital ships, on the theory that the only use of these vessels is for offensive warfare. Japan will propose that naval building in the future shall be confined to small ships, mounting guns suitable only for defense, and that the nations be free, if they wish, to fortify their coasts and harbors to any extent. It is pointed out, however, that none would care to spend money on coast defense when there are no offensive armaments to launch attacks.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 13.—Shanghai's export trade with the United States for the nine months ending Sept. 30 totals $49,907,732, according to the report of the American consulate general at Shanghai. The total for the third quarter of the year was $12,971,091. Raw silk leads the amount exported being valued at approximately $17,000,000. The next largest was cotton lace embroidery, valued at more than $2,000,000. Hair nets also show a total of $2,000,000.

An incident of after the fire

SO great was the heat of the Chicago fire that safes found in the ruins could not be opened for several days.

Mr. Tobey often told of a few unfortunates who failed to cool their safes before opening them and saw papers that had passed through the holocaust burn in an instant when exposed to the open air.

The Tobey ledgers came through safely although the edges were charred by the terrific heat. We are showing them in our corner window this week and the names on them will interest old Chicagoans. Among those who were buying at Tobey's that year are:

Beverly Hills

In a few days we will publicly announce and offer for sale lots in a new subdivision at Beverly Hills in the choicest portion of the famous Ridge property, within 35 minutes' ride of downtown Chicago.

This select tract is the last of the most desirable Beverly Hills home-site locations, and the public announcement should quickly dispose of the limited number of lots available.

Lots are 180 feet deep, well timbered, and beautifully situated on high, level ground in a rigidly restricted residential district, surrounded on all sides by homes costing from $8,000 to $15,000. Water, sewer, gas, and sidewalks are paid for.

Home seekers or investors who reply to this advance announcement will have first choice of these lots at special prices and very attractive payment terms. We will be glad to show the property to those interested now in advance of the public offering.

Any one who knows the many attractions of the Beverly Hills district will recognize this offer as a rare opportunity to locate a home as well as to secure a substantial increase in the investment value of this steadily growing property.

MAN THINKS HE IS A GAME ROOSTER.

President Harding in his letter to Miss Freed of Brooklyn tried to correct the general misapprehension of the purposes and possibilities of the Washington conference. It is not a millennial undertaking. It does not contemplate complete and universal disarmament. It seeks an agreement on open questions, a limitation of armament, the stopping of competition in naval building, and, thus, peace.

"It is necessary to deal with actualities," the President wrote. "Universal disarmament would be beyond hope of realization; even its desirability at this time might well be questioned. Thousands of years of history recording the wars and controversies of mankind suggest that human nature would require revolutionary reorganization to make universal disarmament possible."

Miss Genevieve Forbes of THE TRIBUNE has just returned from Europe with immigrants. Her stories are being published. They chiefly concern the manner in which the United States, at Ellis island and elsewhere, receives the newcomers who potentially are its new citizens.

In the steerage Miss Forbes found that "the English speaking passengers look with disfavor on 'those foreigners,' as they designate the continental. The snobbish aristocracy of the democracy is everywhere present. Unique is the steerage passenger who cannot find a fellow passenger to scorn."

Here is one of the actualities referred to by the President as suggesting that a revolutionary reorganization of human nature will be necessary before peace can be even reasonably secure, much less universal and permanent.

We, the plain and common people, are belligerent, prejudiced, proud, and not extraordinarily tolerant. The plain and common people as a mass instinctively have contempt or dislike for the mass of people composing another nation. They invent opprobrious names for them in contempt and derision. They sneer at a different language. They are enemies of everything alien and scornful of other customs and habits, of other fashions of preparing food or wearing clothes.

We, the plain and common people, are not patient, ox-eyed lovers of our associates in the human race the world over. The plain and common people are not peaceful, indulgent, considerate advocates of the golden rule. The plain and common people are antagonistic to each other. They are inclined upon slight pretext to threaten to knock each other's blocks off. It is more threat than performance, but there is enough performance.

The French and the German peoples do not love each other. Their animosities are not wholly created by their governments. Their governments are in part created by them. It is the same with nearly every people with relation to nearly every other people. Illusions regarding universal and abiding peace begin with the fiction that human beings have an affection for each other and that the plain people of one nation would love the plain people of another if mischievous governments, which the plain people create, would stop making trouble artificially.

In a great many cases the difficulty of a government is to hold the people back. They rise in primitive mass emotions hunting the trouble diplomacy is trying to avoid. Diplomacy would have a hard time making trouble if people were naturally amiably disposed towards each other.

Within a nation the people dislike and distrust by groups. We know that over so trivial a thing as a world's series baseball game there can be division into angry groups. The human being is as much given to derision as to admiration, as much to prejudice as to tolerance, as much to hate as to love, and much more to swinging on the other fellow than to turning the other cheek.

The actualities of an international situation include the emotions of the plain people who when they have a war actually on hand do not like it for any long period, but who are all for swarming over the breastworks as soon as they find themselves a little wrought up.

The explanation of Jack Dempsey is that people like a fight.

FEDERAL JUDGES AND THEIR PAY.

It is hoped the senate-judiciary committee will make provision to meet our judicial needs in this district and pass the bill creating additional federal judgeships. District Attorney Clyne has exposed the congestion of the docket arising from the growth of our population and, consequently, of litigation and law enforcement. Our bench has been underrun for some years, which means unnecessary delay and hardship. It is not economy to continue this condition.

We think congress also should correct the injustice and impolicy of underpay. The salaries of district and circuit judges, $7,500 and $8,500, respectively, may be fairly adequate in some districts. Where courts are held in large cities it is not. A judge who must live in or near New York or Chicago and bring up his family under the conditions of metropolitan life needs a considerably higher income than a country district judge. The salaries now fixed are insufficient for these men, and they ought to have been increased some years ago. But a graduated scale would undoubtedly be defeated. The only way to get sufficient pay for the city judges is to increase the pay of all federal judges horizontally. This would not result in the overpayment of the country judges, for, in our opinion, they are now underpaid, considering what, in the way of education, natural capacity, and hard work is required of them. It would relieve the very serious situation of city judges who lack private means.

There are about thirty-five circuit judges and a few over a hundred district judges, say 140 in all. If their salaries were increased $5,000 a year, giving circuit judges $13,500 and district judges $12,500 a year, it would only add a total of $700,000 to the nation's budget.

The nation can afford to pay its servants a decent wage, especially when the service is as difficult, exacting, and essential to the public welfare as that of our federal judges. The cost in comparison to the need is negligible. We appreciate the effort of congress and the administration to cut public expenditures; but here is a case where the small increase involved would be more than justified.

PHILANDER KNOX.

The loss of Senator Knox is a heavy one. It will be especially felt at this time. While he was not apparently to be one of our representatives at the conference—very likely because of the state of his health—his advice would have been frequently sought and his influence in the senate, when proposals of the conference arrive there, would have been invaluable.

The American people had reason to feel a greater confidence in the conduct of our foreign affairs because of the vigilance and experienced judgment of Senator Knox. His death weakens the nation's councils when we would have them as wise and resolute as possible.

As the intellectual leader of the group which was the first to call attention to the defects of the league covenant and voice resistance to the radical change in our traditional policy urged by Mr. Wilson, Senator Knox won a high place not only in the confidence of his contemporaries but in the enduring memory of the republic. At one of the great crises of our history his statesmanlike discernment and courageous patriotism proved a bulwark of national safety.

But if this was the high point of Senator Knox's public career, it was by no means his only distinguished service. He was a great lawyer, and as attorney general in the cabinets of McKinley and Roosevelt carried on a vigorous prosecution of the anti-trust law, winning several notable legal victories, including the Northern Securities case, a turning point in American financing and corporation policy.

However, it was when Mr. Knox resigned his seat in the senate, where he had succeeded Quay, and became secretary of state in the Taft administration, that his gift for foreign affairs brought him into the first rank of the American public men of his day. A review of our foreign policy under Knox will not be attempted here. It is sufficient to say that it was founded on the vigorous nationalism which inspired his condemnation of the covenant and peace treaty. It interested itself in the establishment of our influence in the Caribbean and China through our participation in economic development and financial aid in those regions, and was dubbed for popular purposes "dollar diplomacy."

The promising beginnings made at that time for an effective and affirmative foreign policy were promptly undone when Wilson and Bryan took office, but Mr. Knox's efforts have now the advantage of being viewed in perspective across the fullness and costly blundering which succeeded them. His reputation as a statesman looms in right proportion against the background of wrecked prestige and lost opportunity for which Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan are responsible.

Philander Knox will rank, we think, among the ablest of our secretaries of state. It is fortunate that at this moment, when great issues of lasting import are before American statesmanship, his spirit and his sound judgment have been restored to honor and influence at Washington, though he himself is not here to make them tell in the national councils.

BORAH'S TWO BARRELS.

Illinois manufacturers and commercial men in the various associations, such as the Association of Commerce, the Manufacturers' Association, etc., are organizing a midwest protest against the Borah bill for the exemption of American coastwise vessels from the Panama canal tolls.

The toll exemption is a tax upon the inland states and a subsidy to seaboard interests, in addition to being treaty breaking, or closer to it than a nation keeping faith cares to go. Senators from inland states, outside of Illinois, were either asleep to the facts when they voted for it or else they thought they were making a grand gesture to the American flag, which is to protect Atlantic and Pacific shipping from paying the freight.

Inland members of the house of representatives, who still have to vote on the bill, may be awakened. They may be strong for the American flag and yet not believe that it should cause the inland shipper to pay more freight, and they may think that it should not be raised above a broken treaty.

The Borah bill is double barreled, loaded with international trouble and with domestic injustice. For one bill that is considerable.

Editorial of the Day

A MYSTERY OF AMERICAN POLITICS.
[New York World.]

But wholly apart from the treaty itself, why should the coastwise shipping interests have free tolls at the expense of the taxpayers? That is something which nobody has ever explained. If tolls are to be collected at all through the Panama canal they should be collected equally from everybody and the canal operated on a business basis. There is certainly no argument in favor of exempting the one class of American shipping already protected from foreign competition.

There must be a reason why congress is so eager to take money out of the pockets of the taxpayers and stuff it into the pockets of the coastwise monopoly. It must be a very impressive reason which makes Democratic senators no less enthusiastic than Republican senators in violating the terms of a treaty, in enacting an international dispute and favoring one special interest at the expense of the country as a whole. We do not know what the reason is, but the record is eloquent of a fixity of purpose which has persisted for ten years and is well on the way to another triumph.

SETTLING HIS DOUBTS.

A Boston man of discriminating taste, dining last night at his favorite eating place, ordered fricassee chicken, took one look at it and called the waiter: "When does a chicken become a fowl here?" The obliging waiter scowled hard before finding his answer: "When it is a rooster, sir." "Is that matter of sex?" "But the patron did not seem convinced. I and the steward was summoned. Again the polite inquiry: "When does a chicken become a fowl, M—?" "Never, sir, in this restaurant!" came back the steward; and the guest went pleasantly on with his meal—Pittsburgh Sun.

ABOUT the most poignant problem of conduct we ever expect to face before you: Daniel Florence Sullivan, assistant city editor of The Trib, is a first lieutenant in the Second Illinois Infantry. Frank G. Hinman, a reporter, has just been commissioned a captain. Capt. Hinman has issued an order to the effect that no one is to be on the bulletin board: "I have no desire to humiliate or embarrass you in front of the enlisted men of the regiment, Sullivan. Remember, however, in the army you are a soldier, and that this local room informality and familiarity must cease."

WE REMEMBER IT.

Sir: In the early days of the more or less United States, as I have been informed, this was used as a sort of lullaby for infants, particularly in the neighborhood of Boston:

Satanstoe is so mere.
He died in Seventy-eighty-four,
With a yip-yip-yip.
And a yaw-yaw-yaw.
And a rickum-blakum raw-raw-raw.
Yo-soop!

But I have thought, and still think, that some local poet should have embodied in deathless verse a name that appeared in the Chicago Telephone Directory a few years ago: James J. Pappathodorokountouroutopolotopolos. Even now it may be found in that book in a somewhat condensed form. Yours, wearily, H. W.

AN urge, not altogether aesthetic, impelled us to part with thirty-five cents for the first number of Youth, a magazine of the arts. We don't regret the purchase. Some of the editors we know having many a time and oft fared cheek by jowl with them in pursuit of the elusive item. But what inspires this paragraph is the coincidence that we had no sooner arrived at the office than the mailman delivered to us, Puberty, "a magazine of adolescent literature." There would seem to be a feud a-brewing. Consider. From an essay, "Elihu," in Youth:

Some day youth will come into its own. That is the faith of those in whom youth lives to-day. Not the meek, we have been told, but the strong, shall inherit the earth. Not the pale Galilean, but the Red Teuton shall triumph. So—Who will be the Nietzsche of the future?—who will overthrow the Slavemoral of the aged and the ageing?

On the other hand, from an essay, "Elihu," in Puberty:

Age has had its fling. Age is ashes. Ashes have no flame. And age is yesterday. Today Puberty knocks upon the door of opportunity. It knocks upon other subjects with equal facility. Puberty is here, vibrant with the Freudian complex, and over the top of the head, counts Puberty destructive. There can be no reconstruction without destruction. Puberty, the rebellious, Puberty—

OCTOBER BEST MONTH.
We are in the midst of what is generally the healthiest month of the year. There are exceptions, of course, 1918 with its great wave of influenza being the outstanding one, but that does not alter the rule.

The heat of summer has been recovered from and the cold of winter has not yet driven people indoors. Not only do undertakers find October a good month for vacations but physicians and nurses find it to be their slack season as well. Huntingdon says efficiency also is at its maximum. A man will do more work in an eight hour day than during the heat of summer or the cold of winter. Students study harder, learn more and get higher grades, as a study of West Point and Annapolis records showed.

Furthermore, in the pagan of health process, the month of October leads to the procession. It has not been long since autumn typhoid was considerable of a menace. October still is one of the worst typhoid months, but the disease is not the source of danger it formerly was. The October typhoid rate is high because the flies insist on coming in out of the cold and the prevalence of the disease during the summer has increased the number of convalescent and other carriers capable of infecting.

Therefore be more careful than ever about impure water, impure milk, flies, and contacts with careless people. Avoid particularly persons recently convalescent from typhoid. The contagion rate is low in October. The children are still out of doors and there is little of the close indoor contact out of which contagion develops. Here, too, has been improvement. As the protection of school children against contagion improves the immediate effect is noted in the lowered contagion rate of the last four months of the year.

October puts an end to and fears of infantile paralysis. The thin sick babies who have had bowel troubles during the hot season get fat and slick. Studies of growth of children show this to be a period of rapid growth. As good as the record is, there are certain things which we can do to make it better. We can keep the flies out of our houses and away from our food. We can keep the mosquitoes away from their victims. We can see to it that persons with malaria are thoroughly as well as symptomatically cured. We can dress carefully so as to avoid colds which develop out of chilling when the weather changes rapidly. We can keep out of doors as much as possible.

If the veins cause inconvenience or disability she should wear a rubber stocking or have them removed by operation. A rubber bandage can be used. A little skill is required to put a bandage on.

THE "FREEDOM OF THE PRESS" IN PERU.
New York, Oct. 7.—Senor Luis Fernan Cisneros, director of La Prensa of Lima, Peru, directs me to send to you, as one of the leading representatives of the American press, the inclosed statement. I appeal to your spirit of fairness and justice to publish it and to denounce the crime against the liberty of thought therein exposed.

Briefly stated, the case is this: A newspaper has been seized by armed force without any judicial indictment of any kind, "expropriated" as real estate could have been on the ground of public utility, and published thereafter at the government expense, to serve its purposes and policies.

The monstrosity of the procedure and the danger which it implies for the liberty of thought in the younger democracies of America does not need to be further demonstrated. It has no precedent in the history of the press. It is for every paper in the world, but mainly for every paper on this continent, to protest against this crime

CITY WOULD CUT SERVICE TO GAIN NICKEL CAR FARE

Jackson Dips Deeper Into
"Economy Plan."

BY OSCAR HEWITT.
George W. Jackson continued examining yesterday his proposed economy plan in the operation of the surface cars which he claims the 5 cent fare may be regained. He was under examination by Attorney James H. Sheehan for the companies.

Mr. Jackson suggested that the owl cars, those operated between 11 o'clock at night and 7 in the morning, be reduced from 400 to 300.

"Chicago does not need so many all night cars as formerly," he explained,
"and some of those who ride the cars would be better off at home."

Would Discontinue Runs.

Another suggestion was the discontinuance of about thirty-five miles of track over which Mr. Jackson said that cars were operated only to retain franchises.

In the list were tracks on 61st street, between Wentworth and Harper avenues, distance of about 20,000 feet;
on 21st street, between Halsted street and Marshfield boulevard, 29,040 feet; 7th street, between Stony Island and Packard avenues, 10,000 feet; Des Plaines street, between Harrison street and Milwaukee avenue, 10,560 feet; 14th street, between Robey and Canal streets; Diversey boulevard, between Milwaukee and Crawford avenues; Pullman street, between Morgan street and Western avenue, and Elm street, between Crosby and Franklin streets.
Other stretches were of shorter length.

Loop System Urged.

A third plan for economy was the installation of loops on forty lines outside of the downtown district, which would permit cars to loop back instead of traveling from terminal to terminal.

A fourth program of economy is the removal of an average of five cars from each of forty other lines. By speeding up the cars he claimed that as much or more service could be rendered.

A fifth suggestion was the discontinuance of the use of the La Salle, Washington, and Van Buren street tunnels under the river and the Dearborn street bridge over the river, because the grades do not permit economical operation.

Brings Vigorous Protest.

The companies protested vigorously at the suggestion of cutting down the entrances to and the exits from the loop.

These were among the proposals of Mr. Jackson for getting the cost of operating from $2.40 down to $1.40 per car hour. Mr. Jackson said yesterday that he had made an error in his representation of the day before when he said that he would reduce the loop cost from $6,525 to $364 per day on all cars operated therein. He explained that the $364 should have been $2,064.
Jackson continues on cross-examination this morning.

BRUNDAGE PLANS SUITS AGAINST 4 EX-TREASURERS

Russel, Ryan Added to Small, Sterling.

Attorney General Brundage yesterday confirmed reports that he is preparing to file civil suits against four former state treasurers to compel restitution of interest on public moneys which it is alleged has been withheld.

The defendants will be Gov. Len Small and Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, who already face trial in criminal proceedings because of interest on funds in their hands while they held the office of treasurer, and their predecessors, Andrew Russel, the present state auditor, and William J. Ryan Jr.

After Bondsman, Too.

Action also will be begun against the bondsman who signed the sureties for these treasurers. In each instance these lists are long and include the names of men more or less widely known in downstate politics.

"These suits have been in preparation for months," said Mr. Brundage, "and are entirely independent of the criminal prosecution of Gov. Small and Lieut. Gov. Sterling. They are brought to recover interest money that the former treasurers are charged with withholding in spite of the legal prohibition against their retaining any interest on public funds entrusted to their hands."

All Records Removed.

All of the treasurers except Sterling are said to have succeeded in removing all their records when they left office, so that no specific sums can be set up as the amount of interest withheld by Small, Russel, or Ryan. Therefore the cases against them will be to some extent suits to compel an accounting for all interest paid on state funds during their terms of office.

Opinions continued to vary widely concerning the date upon which the trial of Gov. Small and Vernon Curtis will be begun at Waukegan. It now appears that the task of transferring the records from Springfield may occupy two weeks and there seems to be a general agreement that other delays may prevent the case actually being ready for trial before Dec. 1. In that event, the opinion has been advanced that a further delay might result from a desire to avoid dragging the case through the holiday season. On this basis the trial would not be begun before Jan. 2.

Judge Edwards to Hear Suits.

Judge Claire E. Edwards, who probably will hear the case, has expressed a willingness to hold court five days a week from 9:30 a. m. to 5 or 5:30 p. m., with a half day on Saturdays, in order to hurry the case.

Judge Edwards also announced that the jury will be "locked up" during the entire case so that it will not be exposed to any form of outside influence.

Reports that Cyrena Van Gordon, noted singer, had wired offers of assistance to Miss Callies could not be verified.

Selling Clothes at Cost

—Is it sound business to sacrifice today's profits for tomorrow's friendships?

WE STARTED something when we started this combination "Suit and Overcoat" Sale. Never in the history of State Street has any single clothing event in Chicago been so widely talked about.

And ACTED upon!

Each day the crowds grow—an all-day stream of men [and their womenfolk] to our manufacturing plant—coming to see the clothes dollar perform as it has not performed in years.

T. R. T.

"But where is the fun for you," asks the skeptic, "if you serve these crowds at cost?"

"Opportunity!" That's our answer.

"The opportunity of a generation for any manufacturer to make permanent friends and boosters for tomorrow, by sacrificing his profits of today."

This community needs capacity activity in all of its shops and stores and counting rooms. Buying a plenty—and selling a plenty—that means jobs and good times a plenty.

It's a matter of sound business, as well as community spirit, for every manufacturer to do all that he can do to stimulate this activity—regardless of present profit and loss!

There'll be gratitude enough, and dividend enough, in the sunny days just ahead, for the merchant who fearlessly backs this far-sighted policy.

In our new and entirely unique suit and overcoat combination plan, we are doing two big things for Chicago clothes buyers.

[1] Giving them the substantial saving we effect—in selling and making costs—by closing and handling two transactions as one—and sending these "Double Header" orders through our shops together.

[2] Lopping off all present profits for the sake of future good-will—and doing our share to stimulate a tidal wave of buying and selling.

We're getting all the reward we want right now, in the song of a thousand humming sewing machines on the ten-acre-wide floors of our shops.

That's music to us—to our employes
—and to Chicago.

The very first issue of the NEW SATURDAY EVENING AMERICAN as tomorrow's edition will contain

Chicago's Approval of the NEW Paper Was Unanimous!

People in every walk of life expressed themselves about it. Not a single voice of disapproval was heard!

Here are a few of the thousands of opinions which came voluntarily to the Evening American from Chicago men and women. From them you can judge the merit and value of this splendid New Saturday paper.

"The Chicago Evening American's week-end edition makes me wish I were a married man. It contains so many interesting features for the women folk and the children. Not that I don't enjoy it to the full myself. I do, for it contains something of interest to every intelligent reader. It is a veritable achievement in newspaper making."—PHILIP RICHARD DAVIS, Attorney, 10 S. La Salle St.

"The Chicago Evening American has always been a paper for the home, but its value as a home paper has been trebled by the new Saturday edition. I wouldn't miss it now for the world, and, if I were inclined to do so, my wife and children wouldn't let me."—J. A. LOEB, Insurance Man, 8 W. Walton Pl.

"As a clergyman, I heartily approve of The Chicago Evening American's new Saturday edition. It is the sort of reading matter a pastor likes to see go into the homes of his parishioners."—RIGHT REV. W. H. FRANCIS, Archbishop of the "Old Catholic" Church in America, 120 E. Walton Place.

"It's as good as a tonic. How did The Chicago Evening American ever come to hit upon such a happy idea, anyway?"—DR. LEON H. BEILIN, Physician, Rush St. and Grand Ave.

"I find that the new Saturday Chicago Evening American contains much of interest to the artist. I shall look forward to it with eagerness."—RUDOLPH WEISENBORN, Painter, 854 N. State St.

"A good, solid, substantial compilation of reading matter. Light and interesting, without being frivolous."—CHARLES REAGH, Attorney, 29 S. LaSalle St.

"I would subscribe to it the year 'round, only getting one's copy by mail is too slow for me. I can't wait to buy it, when it appears on the news stands."—DR. BEN. L. RETZMAN, City Health Department.

"You turned out a fine paper. It shows great enterprise on the part of the publishers. At Camp Grant it will be appreciated by the soldiers."—DR. OSCAR ANDERSON, 1142 Harrison St., Physician at Camp Grant

"The new week-end American, with its many attractive features, should be in great demand. It's an interesting and readable paper."—MICHAEL L. IGOE, Attorney.

"A big, fine, clean, high-class paper and a credit to the publisher. I enjoyed the first edition very much, and am eagerly awaiting the next."—JOHN KJELLANDER, Chief Prohibition Director.

"The American is simply keeping up its continued performance in enterprise and aggressive journalism in the institution of the big Saturday newspaper."—MORRIS SABATH, United States Appraiser.

"The new American is a dandy. It's what might be called an 'all wool and a yard wide' edition. It made a hit in my house."—THOMAS J. HOWE, Government Prosecutor of Bldg. Combines.

"That sporting section of the Saturday American is a 'knockout.' The whole paper is a masterpiece but I get most of my enjoyment out of the sporting section. Keep it up. You won't be sorry."—EDWARD KLEIN, Restaurateur, 304 W. Jackson Blvd.

"A well conceived newspaper, so complete with news and features and departments such as is the new Saturday edition of The Chicago Evening American is bound to succeed because there is a demand for it by the people. And the public know a good thing when they see it."—J. P. V. MURPHY, Manager Savings Department, Continental & Commercial Trust & Savings Bank.

"The Chicago American, always progressive, always battling for the people's interest, is only keeping its faith with the public by giving it that remarkable new paper on Saturday. More power to The American."—"BILL" YEAGLE, Cigar Merchant, Great Northern Hotel.

"Add me to the list of boosters of that new Saturday paper. It's just what we want, and is in keeping with the progress of The Evening American in knowing what the people want—and furthermore in giving them what they want."—LOUIS GOLDSTEIN, Pres., 20th Century Bottling Works, 903 S. Wood St.

"I read every line of it. It is a very enterprising supplement and is bound to take on. It is very fine."—HOWARD POTTER, Manager of Mary Garden.

"It's the greatest bargain for the money I know of anywhere."—PETER M. HOFFMAN, Coroner.

"A very creditable piece of journalism. I did not have an opportunity to read it completely, but one cannot fail to be impressed with its completeness. It covers every subject."—SAMUEL A. ETTELSON, Corporation Counsel.

"A most interesting edition and I enjoyed every word of it. Especially did I enjoy the preliminary installment of the life story of my dear friends Mrs. Galli-Curci and her husband, Homer Samuels."—JOSEPH B. FLEMING, Chief Counsel for Dailey Commission and Former Asst. District Attorney.

"A splendid innovation. I read the special features with enthusiasm and shall look forward to the future Saturday specials."—WILLIAM H. CODY, Chief Investigator for Dailey Commission.

"A highly entertaining and instructive edition."—WEYMOUTH KIRKLAND, Attorney. Famous trial lawyer who represents Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

"It looks like a sure success to me. It's a great edition and reflects great credit upon the staff of the newspaper."—CHARLES F. CLYNE, United States Attorney.

"The reading public will have to hand it to the enterprise of The Chicago Evening American. That Saturday bundle of interesting features and news facts should prove to be a hit with those who enjoy a finely conducted newspaper."—LEWIS F. MASON, United States Commissioner.

"It's a wonderful bargain at the price and a big asset to any home. It's the greatest newspaper of the whole week."—A. L. CHIAPPE, 1918 W. Van Buren St., R. R. Mail Clerk.

"The initial number of the new Saturday American was a corker. I read it with great delight."—BENJAMIN P. EPSTEIN, Attorney.

"Very good, impressive, and enjoyed it very much."—JEROME J. CROWLEY, Attorney.

"The whole edition acintillates interest. Chicago will welcome it."—LOUIS B. ANSCHULTZ, Furrier, 931 Leland Avenue.

"That edition surely is giving the public 'both barrels.' My wife and children will be as glad to see it as I am."—FRANK WEINLING, Evanston Policeman.

"The new Saturday American is a progressive step in journalism that should receive a warm reception at the hands of those who are interested in high class and entertaining reading. It looks like the biggest return on the investment by readers since the after-the-war adjustment. It's a home run in my estimation."—SAM HOWARD, Chief Clerk, United States Marshal.

"All kinds of news. Take it from me I enjoyed the new Saturday edition of The American. It ought to be in every home. The American should be congratulated. It's bound to be a great success."—MAURICE KLEIN, Chief Deputy Marshal.

"It's something that shows pep, enterprise and organization. That new paper fills a long-felt want—a newspaper embracing all conceivable features is what has been needed for a long time for one to take home with him on Saturday."—JAMES R. GLASS, United States Commissioner.

"They've got to hand it to The American. The Saturday innovation is an unbeatable paper with its many forms of entertainment and reading."—EDWIN WEISL, Asst. United States Attorney.

"I am enthusiastic over the football page. Other parts are equally as good, but I am a football fan."—DWIGHT SIMMONS, High School Student, 730 Central Ave., Wilmette.

"It's a twentieth century wonder. It's just the sort of success that could be expected from The Chicago Evening American."—RALPH WHITSETT, High School Student, 830 Oakwood Ave., Wilmette.

"I have been reading The Chicago Evening American for years and watched it grow, but this is one of the greatest things it has ever done. It is the last word in a home newspaper."—MRS. C. MORRIS, 7405 N. Ashland Ave.

"It's just another example of the aggressive spirit of The Chicago Evening American. It's what I want for a real Saturday paper that has been missing for a long time."—CARL STEINKAMP, Tobacco Dealer, 624 1/2 Davis St., Englewood.

"An extremely interesting newspaper. I'm going to take home Saturday afternoon to the family and to read at leisure."—ROGER V. FLORY, Attorney, 111 W. Washington St.

"This is characteristic 'American' enterprise and will be a great success. I enjoyed it very much. The 'funnies' go great with the kiddies."—P. KEMP, Cement Dealer, 133 W. Washington St.

"Keeping up the 'American's' reputation for being interesting and unusual. The features are very absorbing. It ought to go fine."—M. GLASER, Grain Dealer, 77 Board of Trade.

"That's a splendid innovation, and I think Chicago will take to it immediately."—ARMAND V. SMITH, 111 W. Washington St.

"Another exhibition of twentieth century progress by a twentieth century newspaper."—ROBERT E. CROWE, State's Attorney.

"It is as fine a piece of newspaper enterprise as has come to my attention in Chicago for the quarter of a century."—GEORGE E. GORMAN, Asst. State's Attorney.

"I read The American for lively news and find no better exhibition of liveliness than in the new Saturday edition, just inaugurated."—JAMES C. O'BRIEN, Attorney.

"The idea is a good one and should make a hit."—JUDGE GEORGE KERSTEN.

"I was delighted with your Saturday Evening American Magazine."—COL. C. EDWARDS SMITH, One of the captors of Aguinaldo, and Ku Klux foe.

"The Saturday American is a sure winner. People have been wanting just such a masterful journal on Saturday for a long time. Good success to it."—JOHN J. BRADLEY, United States Marshal.

By all means read the NEW EVENING AMERICAN tomorrow

People say it is worth five cents

THE EVENING AMERICAN sold like wildfire. No wonder! It contained, contained, five complete feature sections.

These Star Features Make It Well Worth Five Cents!

The American Home Journal

Romance, mystery, adventure, popular science, fiction, combine to make this full-color magazine section itself worth all that is charged for the complete newspaper. In tomorrow's edition there will be rich assortment of special features, including

GALLI-CURCI'S ROMANCE

Another two-page installment of this entrancing love story, written by the famous prima donna's former husband, Luigi Curci.

THE NEWS SECTION

The Evening American makes a feature of news every day, and instead of shrouding the day's happenings in doleful and lifeless reports, it prefers to enliven them in their presentation with a touch of journalistic genius. So the young men and women who gather and write the news for the Evening American are kept alive to their finger-tips to the requirement that their work must be interesting as well as accurate and informative. Read this section Saturday. Observe particularly how easy it is to read.

"All the News—First If Possible, Accurate Always."

SOCIETY, MUSIC, BOOKS and the STAGE

"The Chaperon," is invariably "in the know," and her column in the Saturday Edition rarely fails to include a story which is eagerly read by those who make the city's social news.... Devries writes about music, interestingly and with authority unquestioned.... Books are discussed every Saturday so that you may judge whether you want to read them or not. [There's a difference between book "discussion" and book "criticism" which you will readily perceive.].... The spoken and silent drama find liberal treatment in this illustrated section, and a complete directory is a real aid to theatre goers and movie lovers.

FOUR PAGES of FULL-COLOR COMICS

No need to tell you about Mutt and Jeff, international fun makers, of Abie and his coterie of comedians, of Polly and her ludicrous family, or of S'matter Pop? the indulgent dad and the whimsical youngster who provide laughter for millions. You know them all from the daily comic strips. In the Saturday Edition you will find them in full-color pages, funnier than ever.

The MOTHER of the "KEWPIES"

And their stepfather! Didn't know the "Kewpies" had a stepfather, did you? They have. The story is magnetic and full of interest.

FOUR FULL PAGES of SPORTS NEWS

Edited by "Ed" Smith, one of America's foremost authorities on sports, and an able staff of assistants, this well illustrated section is the last word in sporting sections in Chicago. It gives generous space to all athletic events, professional and amateur, and the decisions of its editors and experts is the law to thousands of followers of sporting events in and around the metropolis.

Final football scores in late editions tomorrow.

WHY A POOR GIRL GAVE UP A BILLION

Know anything about the richest of potentates, the East Indian Princes? A poor girl married one of them, became a Maharanee, and chucked it because she couldn't stand Indian court life. She scorned a billion dollar bondage. Would you?

The BLACK MENACE

This thrilling detective story by Arthur Reeve, creator of Craig Kennedy, is continued in tomorrow's edition. Each installment is better than its predecessor. Don't miss this one.

A FULL PAGE OF FASHIONS, Illustrated

The latest creations of masters of fashion are illustrated and described by the country's foremost authorities.

POTASH and PERLMUTTER on "GOLLUF"

These famous characters are regular visitors with The American Home Journal. This week they discuss golf, or "golluf" as Mawruss calls it, and other forms of exercise, including less expensive pool.

CITY HAS CHANCE TO LIVE WITHIN INCOME IN 1922

In making the 1922 city budget, work on which has already begun, the city council has an opportunity to set a precedent in local municipal affairs by appropriating less than the city's income.

The Lands wage award, if accepted, will cut the city's expenses about $700,000 a year. Indications, according to financial experts in the office of Controller Harding, are that the income from miscellaneous revenue will be $300,000 more in 1922 than this year and there is reason to believe, according to the same authority, that the income from taxes will increase more than $300,000.

In a letter to department heads, directing them to have their budget estimates in his hands by Nov. 1, City Controller Harding admits the mayor's appointees are at least partially to blame for the 1920 deficit which resulted in an $8,000,000 bond issue to get the city out of the hole.

"A foregone demonstration has been given us this year of the serious consequences of allowing unvouchered and unpaid bills and claims to accumu-

BRITISH FLEET NOW CARRIES MODELS OF ALL U. S. WARSHIPS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Every fighting ship in the British navy is now being rapidly converted by the admiralty into a sort of naval museum, containing hundreds of small wooden models, accurately made, of every existing fighting ship in the world.

The admiralty has been working on this scheme for some months and every ship in the navy is now equipped with wooden models of every battleship, cruiser, destroyer, and torpedo boat in the British and American navies. They are rapidly completing and distributing similar models of every ship in the Japanese, French, Italian, and other navies. The purpose of the models is to help the commander identify strange ships appearing on the horizon before the stranger gets too close for comfort.

late with no provision for their payment," the letter says.

"Such of these as are the result of contracting for an expenditure in excess of the amount authorized in the appropriation or for which no appropriation has been made, are due to a violation of not only the cities and villages act but also the state criminal code."

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL GRIEF AT KNOX'S DEATH

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Senate "irreconcilables" began today to devise means of filling the void caused in their ranks by the sudden death of Senator Knox of Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania statesman, fortified by his long experience as secretary of state and attorney general, was one of the strongest pillars of the group of senators who have resisted all entanglements in European affairs. The senator exercised tremendous influence in the rejection of the treaty of Versailles and in the subsequent decision of the Harding administration to keep out of the pact.

The "irreconcilables" feel his loss particularly keenly on the foreign relations committee, which they have virtually controlled for the last two years. They are determined that the vacancy shall be filled by appointment from one of their own group. It is understood that Senator Poindexter of Washington, an ardent "irreconcilable" is slated for the place.

Talk of Sproul as Senator. Reports that Gov. Sproul of Pennsylvania would resign his office to accept from his successor the appointment to the senate vacancy created by Mr. Knox's death were not credited by Republican leaders here today. They all agree that Gov. Sproul is certain to be a candidate for election to the senate next year, but friends of the governor in Washington insist that he will not sacrifice the remainder of his gubernatorial term for the temporary appointment to the senate. Instead they say he will appoint to the vacancy some one in his confidence who will not be a candidate against him at the regular election.

In a proclamation today addressed to the people of the nation, President Harding eulogized the public services and private life of the late senator, whom he called one of the country's "greatest statesmen."

Two Funeral Services. The funeral rites over Senator Knox will comprise two services—one here tomorrow and another Saturday at Valley Forge, Pa. The services here will be held at 11 o'clock at St. John's Episcopal church, with President Harding, cabinet members, members of congress and of the diplomatic corps, and others in attendance. Associates of Senator Knox on the senate foreign relations committee are to be the honorary pallbearers. The active bearers will be Maj. J. Reuben Clark Jr., Maj. Charles Wilson, William Watson Smith of Pittsburgh, Walter E. Clark, formerly governor of Alaska, Frederick D. Faust, and W. F. Martin, the senator's secretary.

Tomorrow afternoon the body will be taken to Valley Forge to the senator's country home there. Services will be held in the Memorial chapel Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The body will be buried in the chapel.

Capital flags were at half mast today, to remain for ten days, the official mourning period.

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS DEATH ON BOAT MURDER

That John Russell, alias August Meyer, whose death the police attempted to link with "bootlegging" across the Canadian border, was murdered, was the finding of a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Russell yesterday.

Russell died two weeks ago at the Mid-West hospital of a bullet wound. He was unable to enlighten the police further than to say that he was shot while on a boat in Lake Michigan near Wisconsin. At that time police were investigating a band of "bootleggers," said to be operating from Canada to Chicago through the great lakes, and it was thought Russell was a member of the supposed ring.

Beware of Tender Gums

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound, keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for teeth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today.

Brush Your Teeth With Forhan's—How to Use It

Use it twice daily, year in and year out. Wet your brush in cold water, place a half-inch of the refreshing, healing paste on it, then brush your teeth up and down. Use a rolling motion to clean the crevices. Brush the grinding and back surfaces of the teeth. Massage your gums with your Forhan-coated brush—gently at first until the gums harden, then more vigorously. If the gums are very tender, massage with the finger, instead of the brush. If gum shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

The Blessing of Quietness

HERE is one of the offices of the Bankers' Trust Company, Boston. The floor is Armstrong's Plain Brown Linoleum.

Bankers like floors of linoleum, because linoleum deadens the sound of hurrying footsteps, and gives to busy offices the blessing of quietness.

There are many other reasons for the increasing use of linoleum floors in banks, offices, stores. No other floor is so easy to clean, and cost of maintenance is low, for linoleum never needs expensive refinishing. A floor of Armstrong's Linoleum is springy and elastic under foot, easy to walk on and stand on. It gives good wear under the hardest usage. All Armstrong's Linoleum is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction.

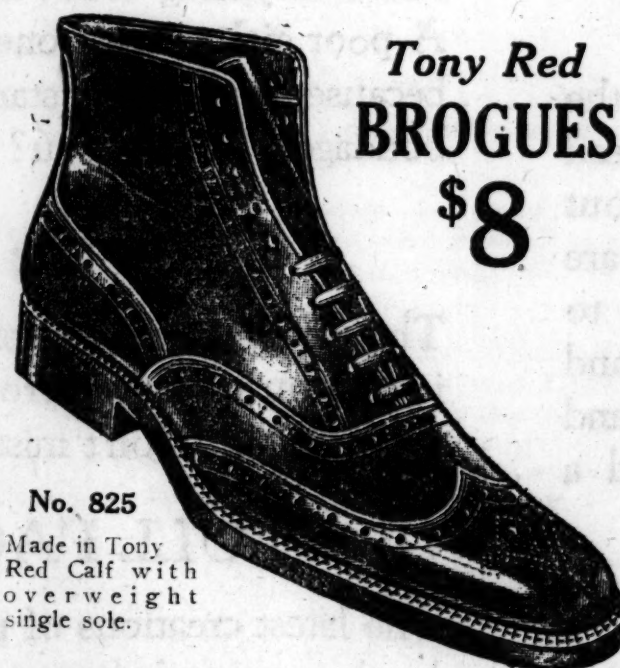

If you are planning to build, if you need new floors in your store or office, consult your architect, contractor, or any good linoleum dealer about Armstrong's Linoleum. We shall be glad to send him data and specifications for laying.

A good way to install Armstrong's Linoleum as a permanent floor is to cement it down firmly over a layer of deadening felt. A floor so laid remains smooth, tight, and absolutely waterproof.

Floors of Armstrong's Linoleum are not expensive. You can identify Armstrong's by the Circle "A" trademark on the burlap back.

KANSAS MINERS SUSPENDED BY LEWIS DEFY HIM

Pittsburg, Kas., Oct. 13.—Declaring the laws of the International Mine Workers' union were being violated in Kansas, President John Lewis of the international union sent an order here today suspending President Alexander H. Howat of the Kansas district and his administration, and setting up a provisional organization, headed by George L. Peck, local member of the international executive board.

Late tonight announcement was made by John Fleming, acting president of the union in the absence of Lewis, who with August Dorchy, union vice president, is serving a six months' sentence in the Cherokee county jail for violation of the industrial court law, that the provisional administration had not taken charge and would not be permitted to do so for the present.

Mass Meeting Today.
Any action, Fleming said, would be dependent upon the outcome of a mass meeting of miners called at Franklin for tomorrow afternoon. At union headquarters suspended officials said the tentative program was for the "re-organized" officials to ignore the suspension order and continue the district organization, maintaining dues in the district organization instead of paying to the international body.

President Lewis' suspension order, it was announced, was due specifically to the fact that Howat and other union officials had failed to comply with a ruling at Indianapolis ordering the striking miners in two Kansas mines to return to work.

From his cell in the county jail at Columbus Howat today issued this statement:
"To hell with John Lewis and Gov. Allen. Our plans are unchanged. We will continue the fight."

Please State Officials.
Topeka, Kas., Oct. 13.—The action of President Lewis in suspending the Kansas district was generally conceded in state official circles today to have promise of entirely clearing up the puzzling situation arising out of the cessation of work in the Kansas mine field following the jailing of Howat and Dorchy.

Denounced by Farrington.
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America was bitterly denounced here today for his action in suspending Alexander Howat and other officials of the Kansas district organization by Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners.

"I suppose the miners will put up with Lewis' arrogance as long as they can and then take such action as might be necessary to protect themselves against him," Farrington said.

DEATH OF KNOX MAY DELAY VOTE ON TAX MEASURE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Final action on the tax bill in the senate now seems unlikely before week after next. The interruption to senate business caused by the death of Senator Knox probably will prevent a vote on the bill on Friday, Oct. 21, the date planned by the senate leaders.

Adjournment of the senate today out of respect to the memory of Senator Knox prevented any consideration of the tax bill. Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee, said that the tax bill might be considered for a brief time tomorrow. There will be no session of the senate on Saturday, as the funeral of Senator Knox will take place on that date.

Delays Action on Treaty.
The postponement of the date for a final vote on the German peace treaty from tomorrow until next Monday will prevent much further consideration of the tax bill until Tuesday or possibly Wednesday.

Senator Penrose said that if the Democrats continue dilatory tactics in connection with the tax bill he will insist upon night sessions, starting next week. The Republican charge that the Democrats are seeking to prolong consideration of the tax bill in order to defer the enactment of a protective tariff law.

Alcohol Users Protest.
Organizations representing the various industries which use alcohol for industrial or medicinal purposes are exerting every effort to insure the defeat of the amendment, approved by Republican members of the finance committee, providing for a tax of $6.40 per proof gallon on distilled spirits, with a rebate of $4.30 where it is shown to the satisfaction of the commissioner of internal revenue that the spirits were used for legitimate non-beverage purposes.

Delays Mrs. Obenchain's Plea for Separate Trial
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Madelyn Connor Obenchain appeared before Judge Sidney N. Reeve today to hear her attorneys plead for a separate trial. The plea, however, was not made. Ralph R. Obenchain, her lawyer and former husband, asking a delay until Monday, which was granted. Arthur C. Burch of Evanston, Ill., who is indicted jointly with Mrs. Obenchain for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy of this city, was also in court. Judge Reeve has indicated he would deny the motion for separate trials.

TELLS WOMEN HOW TO DRESS BETTER ON LESS

BY MARTHA.

Martha, Martha, thou hast troubled thyself about many things.

It was "What Every Woman Wants to Know" instead of "What Every Woman Knows," yesterday, on the sixth floor at 15 East Van Buren street. Miss Eleanor D. Hansen of the extension department of the Art Institute talked to standing room only on how to dress well on limited means. "First," Miss Hansen advised her audience, "find out if you belong to the warm or cool color family. If you're a warm, wear all the browns and reds; if the other, stick to blues, blacks, grays, and violets. You may use patches of the other colors for accents. It's easier, you know, to wear the right kind of clothes than to diet if you're stout."

Silk underwear, the lecturer maintained, is not extravagant, but saves money in the long run. Buying shoes, a woman should buy two pairs exactly alike, and change from one pair to the other daily. And the purchaser should ask herself "Is that the color for me?" instead of "Are they wearing that this season?"

Some Living Examples.

Then walked down the models, giving examples of Miss Hansen's claim that a woman can look like a million dollars without spending that much.

CAPTAIN CUDMORE DEAD; ON POLICE FORCE 36 YEARS

Former Capt. William W. Cudmore, for thirty-six years a member of the Chicago police department, died at the Alexian Brothers' hospital early last evening.

Death came at the end of a two years' illness—an illness which led to his resignation from the force in December, 1919. Though transferred to the Warren avenue district, he was never able to take command CAPT. WILLIAM W. CUDMORE.

Capt. Cudmore joined the department in 1884. Known as the handsomest policeman in the city, he was placed in charge of the "beauty squad" which was organized many years ago to act as an honor guard for celebrities visiting Chicago.

Capt. Cudmore was a bachelor. He lived with his brother, Sergt. George Cudmore of the Town Hall station, at 2121 Cleveland avenue.

"ahs" in a fetching lace dinner dress, $39. Entire outfit, $159.75. Irma Roche, the business girl, wore a chiffon velvet afternoon dress, $79. Her yellow satin evening dress was only $25. For Miss Hansen said, the clothes you wear least should cost less. The business girl's complete equipment was $205.75.

Ethel Moore, "sport model," displayed a black satin evening gown, $55, and a variety of sport clothes, totaling $214. Norma Roche, the "average girl," showed a tan evening gown priced $39.50, and other accessories of the high school girl. The bill was $149.

"Simplicity," said the speaker, "is the test for the well dressed woman. Never cover one decoration with another. Embroidery and beads don't go together. Triangles are the aid, and circles the enemy, of the stout woman. And last, don't hang your Sunday clothes in the closet till they go out of style, and then wear them on the street."

A Living Room for $500.

Preceding Miss Hansen, Ross Crane, head of the extension department, showed how Mr. and Mrs. Newby could furnish their living room for $500. He constructed the room as he talked.

"A living room should have a fireplace, first of all," he said. "It is the center of social life. It vitalizes the imagination of childhood."

He rapidly built the room, with rugs, chairs, tables, a box couch, draperies, and books.

"Public Demands Costly Burials"—Undertakers

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 13.—American are extravagant and undertakers are not to blame for the high cost of funerals, the National Funeral Directors' association declared officially through its convention here today. The report adopted said standardized funerals would be welcomed by the casket company industry and several insurance associations. The number of undertakers is excessive, the legislative committee reported, saying there is a surplus of 13,000 and urging federal restrictions. The surplus of undertakers helped to make funerals costly, it was charged.

Nine Styles for Fall and Winter Wear

THOSE who have already worn the VAN HEUSEN Collar will tell you how superior it is to any other made.

It is not a new style or a new brand,—it is an entirely new and different kind. No collar has ever been made on anything like this principle.

It is as comfortable and pliant as a regular soft collar yet never wrinkles or sags; smarter than a stiff collar, yet is laundered entirely without starch.

It will not shrink or wilt. It never has saw edges. It does not destroy shirts and ties—as simple to launder as a handkerchief.

For its full life, the VAN HEUSEN Collar is always perfect in appearance.

The Hon. Dicky Fitz-William

HERE, at last, is one Briton whom we need not hesitate to entertain. He has no intention of writing a book about America, and he never gave a lecture in his life.

HIS father is the seventeenth Earl of Bicester (pronounced "Bister"). His mother came from Manchester, but she has many charming qualities. In brief, he's a collector's specimen of the younger son of old England—monocle and all.

DICKY'S a's are as broad as his paternal acres, but not as broad as his outlook on life. And if his trousers leave the London cut, which fits so snugly under the shoulders, his friends appreciate the hip-room they provide.

ENGLISH? Yes—but not insular. He's as much up on the beauties of the Broadway stage as on the inmates of Burke's Peerage. He talks familiarly of "your American writing chappies." He's already laying wagers on the Yale-Harvard game. And he knows just the place to buy some new ties—his confounded man only packed five dozen, don't you know.

HOW did he do it? It was quite simple. He spent his first evening here reading the

NOVEMBER VANITY FAIR

IN THIS ISSUE:

JAMES BRANCH CABELL tells what "Jürgen" and his other books are all about. W. L. George dissects another feminine type. Paul Rosenfield discusses the musician as a parodist of life. Frances Marion turns aside from writing scenarios for Mary Pickford, to throw new light on the old question, "Death, where is thy sting?" And, speaking of death, Ernest Boyd has a cruel article on George Moore's dead life.

THEN there's unusual humor by the usual humorists—George Chappell, Donald Stewart, Nancy Boyd and James L. Ford; and essays with a satiric bite by Frank Colby and John V. A. Weaver. And, on the practical side, automobiles, finance and men's clothes.

SPORTS? Yes—Dr. Spaeth, the Princeton coach, explains the philosophy of rowing; Grantland Rice fixes the point where athletes reach their Dangerous Age; and Heywood Brown analyzes the do-or-die spirit of Anglo-Saxon sporting ethics.

THE illustrations range from new portraits of Mary Pickford, Fokine, Violet Heming and Joseph Hergesheimer to Fish's notations on the Tests of Love. Also this month's nominees for our Hall of Fame: Dr. Goodwin's outdoor figure studies; Ralph Barton's self-portraits of the French Impressionists seeing themselves as they see others; and intriguing groups of the peris of the stage and the porcesses of the movies.

HURLEY BRANDS TOLLS BILL BLOW AT MIDDLE WEST

More Business Men Join in Protest on Measure.

In passing the Borah bill exempting American coastwise shipping from Panama canal tolls, the senate dealt with a matter that should be left to the diplomatic corps, according to Edward N. Hurley Sr., former chairman of the United States shipping board.

In an interview last night, Mr. Hurley and other Chicago business men added their voices to the protest against the measure. He said he expected to die in the house.

"I don't believe the senators who let the Borah bill get through realized what they were doing," Mr. Hurley said. "The bill obviously discriminates against inland shipping, placing an additional burden on business that already pays heavy tolls in excess of those exacted from our eastern competitors. We already have the handicap of stiff freight rates to either coast."

Holds Its Diplomatic Matter.
"Settlement of the Panama tolls question should be left to the diplomatic branch of the government. I am sure we would all be satisfied with any conclusion reached by President Harding and Secretary Hughes."

"But leaving the moral consideration out, we have good reason to oppose the bill, which would favor the east and west coasts as against all that lies in between. The middle western manufacturer who sells to Europe has to absorb the tolls represented by the freight rates to the Atlantic coast, in competing with eastern manufacturers."

"We have accepted this handicap, and have managed to do business, but now—at a time when everybody is operating on a close margin—comes this effort to saddle another burden on us."

Others Take Same Stand.
"I have read the Hay-Pauncefote treaty very studiously, and I can find nothing in it to excuse the Borah bill," said Col. William Nelson Pelouse of the Pelouse Manufacturing company. "The treaty expressly stipulates that all nations shall pay the same tolls. The measure would hurt our business, but I object to it chiefly because it lays this country wide open to charges of bad faith."

"All economic considerations aside, the United States can't afford to pass the Borah bill," said Herman H. Hettler, head of the lumber company bearing his name. "Our people don't want to face the charge that our treaties are scraps of paper."

"The Borah bill menaces the middle west," said John W. O'Leary, vice president of the Chicago Trust company. "Our business will be injured and we shall have to share the additional tax burden that loss of tolls now paid by American coastwise shipping will represent."

DELAY ON LINK BRIDGE PYLONS STIRS FAHERTY

After months of dilatory tactics in dealing with the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company the city administration has decided to force the company to clothe the framework of the ornamental pylons of the boulevard link bridge with rock.

Since the bridge was opened to the public a year and one-half ago the steel framework of two of the pylons has been allowed to deteriorate without protection of any kind. The other two, at the northwest and southeast corners of the bridge, were clapboarded to form shanties for watchmen and bridge tenders.

Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, said last night he will order work to begin on at least two of the pylons in the near future. Previous efforts to get action out of the dredge and dock company has been met by the assertion that since the specifications for the Bedford stone for the pylons were drawn the price of the stone has increased more than 100 per cent.

Finest Laboratory Facilities

The Public Health Institute prides itself on its splendid laboratory. Nothing is of more vital importance in dealing with venereal disease than a well equipped laboratory. The facilities of the laboratory are necessary, in the first place, to ascertain whether there actually exists venereal infection in a suspected case. Symptoms only are by no means sufficient for accurate diagnosis. The laboratory is also of vital aid in determining the treatment and ascertaining the results.

Treatment for "Social" Diseases Now at a Cost Within the Reach of Everyone

Are you afflicted with a venereal disease? If so, do not try to cure yourself. Avoid patent "remedies." They may ruin your whole health and life. No matter how poor you are, you need take no chances at all on getting the right treatment and right care in your affliction. You may come to the Public Health Institute, where you will receive the best of treatment and care at a small cost.

Effective Treatment—Acute or Chronic Cases

Daily the Public Health Institute is helping hundreds who are afflicted with venereal diseases. Some of these are young people who have but lately contracted disease; others are men and women of advanced ages (up to 60) whose trouble has been of years' standing.

Besides treating patients medically, the Institute also does valuable educational work on the prevention of venereal disease, which is of vital benefit to the community at large. Every physician, every clergyman, every welfare worker, every citizen who wants to be a good citizen should encourage the worthy mission of the Public Health Institute.

The public-spirited men who founded the Institute did so not for gain, but to make a fight on venereal disease in the interest of the public health and good. Their purpose was to place within the reach of everyone, no matter how poor, the very best of medical care, treatment and advice.

The cost of treatment is small—a fact made possible by the large number of patients handled. Any individual can readily pay without depriving himself of any necessities.

Privacy and Convenience

The Institute is completely equipped with the very latest scientific facilities for the treatment of venereal disease, including a splendid laboratory for the making of Wasserman and other tests. The Institute can handle 30 patients at a time, each in a private treatment room. This means no waiting in a crowded reception room, no delay in being treated. Privacy from the time you enter until you leave.

Every case receives the attention of competent physicians especially well trained in this work—men of heart and understanding who really want to do something for the man who is venereally diseased.

The Institute occupies the entire 4th floor of the Reliance Building at 32 N. State St., southwest corner Washington. Centrally located in the heart of the loop, within easy transportation distance for everyone. Patients who work in the loop or close to it, can run up at noon for treatment. Those who work at a distance from the loop can come in the evening after work or on Saturday afternoons.

If you are afflicted with a venereal disease, lose no time in getting the proper treatment. Not only for your own sake, but for those with whom you live. A visit to the Public Health Institute will do much to put your mind at rest.

Hours: 10:00 A. M. to 8:00 P. M.

To Employers:

You can help in the good work of the Public Health Institute and add to the efficiency of your own working force by letting your employees know the facts about venereal disease and the service of this Institute. We supply employers with placards for posting in proper places, also literature for distribution among employees. Write for particulars.

"OLD ED HOWE" HAILED "PARENT" OF COLUMNISTS

Journalist Students Hear Troubles of Humorists.

THE AMERICAN—"Did you see Harrington's column when you were in Rome?"

THE OTHER AMERICAN—"O, yes,
I read it every morning!"

From "Harrington on Column Conductors."

BY EYE WITNESS.

Thus firmly has the institution—be soon ceases to be a person merely—known as the column conductor established himself in American journalism and in the hearts of American newspaper readers.

Outside American journalism he does not now exist, unless you count the good, and growing better, columnist on the Paris edition of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

But that is American journalism, too.

Prof. H. F. Harrington, director of the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern university, lectured last evening on "The Wit and Wisdom of the Column Conductor." His subtle might have been "Or the Easiest Thing in Journalism to Do Badly," but he did not stress that part.

It's a Dog's Life.

To be witty—or the cause of wit in others—twenty times a day $66 days in the year was, the lecturer granted, a dog's life, and he said we ought to be kind to our column conductors. He was. All he named he said were good.
For reasons of delicacy or humanity he left out the others. He sought no local broils.

He whom B. L. T., may he rest in peace, used to call "Old Ed Howe" is, so Prof. Harrington thinks, the father of them all, with Eugene Field, Bill Nye, and George Ade less chargeable with the paternity of the tribe.

He is wrong there.

The first great columnist was Charles Lamb. He was on the job for the London Morning Post about a century and a quarter ago, when he was 24 or 25 years old, and that job nearly, if not quite, drove him to drink, a pastime to which he never required much forcing.

"Every morning paper," Lamb said,
"is an essential retainer to its establishment kept an author who was bound to furnish daily a quantum of witty paragraphs at sixpence a joke, and it was thought pretty high, too."
So were some of the jokes.

How American "Parent."

But the current American tribe must Prof. Harrington insist, learn to say papa to "Old Ed Howe" of the Chicago Tribune, whom, the lecturer said, he liked to think of as "the greatest American paragrapher, whose humor nobody has ever excelled." (By the way, he is going to lecture to the Medill school this semester.) Prof.
Harrington gave us a handful of Howe's capsules—"all the wit and all the wisdom in a capsule," was the way he put it. Here are some:

"Are you disposed to give men credit or hell?"

"A woman is as old as she looks before breakfast."

"Don't be ashamed if you can't play
the piano. Be proud of it."

"If a man is treated well in a small town he thinks he can do better in a bigger."

Humanties in Trivialities.

Harrington's comment: "Such is Howe; never ceasing to be interested in the trivialities of the curb and of the town, and finding in them the humanties."

Eugene Field he accounted a marvel, for that was the day of the one-man column as differentiated from the columnist plus the contributors. And they were long columns and the type was not our present day eye-resting, but space-devouring minion—cuss it.

Into Field's column, along with much banality and crude horseplay, went exquisite things, among them "The Dutch Lullaby," which the professor thinks is "the finest poem of childhood in the English language, with "Little Boy Blue" probably a close second."

Of B. L. T., who was really the father of "the column" as now builded, be it Morley's, or Frank Adams', or Don Marquis', the lecturer said:

"Taylor's special gift was the gathering of the fun or the wisdom of a paragraph into one thrust. With astonishing terseness he achieved wit,
banter, rally, satire, and sunshine.
He was great as a paragrapher; great as a rhymester, great as a philosopher."

Harrington thought the line Taylor put over the item about Jan. Olson in the Lone Tree Reporter a classic of laconic wit. The item was, "Farmer Jan Olson butchered Friday."

Taylor's caption was:

KILLING TIME.

County Orders Justices to "Kick In" with Million

Cook county justices of the peace were ordered yesterday to turn over to the county treasurer fines, costs, and extra amounting to more than $1,000, $900 which have been collected from motorists. Assistant State's Attorney James W. Burke, who has been investigating alleged infractions of laws by justices and other village officials, sent out the orders. He said that in many cases from $2 to $4 was tacked on the motorist's bill as "costs."

FOUR MORE ADDED TO DEATH TOLL OF AUTOMOBILES

Two women, a man, and a child died in Chicago yesterday as a result of motor accidents.

Failure of George Walters, 42 years old, 1428 Alsie street, to slow up when crossing Irving Park boulevard at Clark street cost the life of his wife, Mrs. Selma Walters. Their sidecar motorcycle collided with a Yellow taxi cab and Mrs. Walters' neck was broken.

Walters and Martin Nordlund, a lodge in the Martin home who was riding the rear seat of the motorcycle, were badly hurt.

Mrs. Mary Flamen, 28 years old, 5823 Winthrop avenue, was struck by an automobile driven by Miles O. Shively, 7723 North Paulina street, and died later in Ravenswood hospital. Shively was held.

John Kurz, 35 years old, 4121 Grace street, died in St. Anne's hospital of injuries received when his motorcycle collided with a truck.

Robert Munse, 8 years old, 6949
South May street, struck by an automobile Sept. 28, died yesterday.

My Customers Believe It!

It makes me tired when I hear men who are supposed to be intelligent say (when they hear that some fellow IS DOING SOMETHING UNUSUAL): "He CAN'T do it!" You know what I mean. Just yesterday I heard a man WHO HAS NEVER BEEN IN MY STORE say: "Mitchell CAN'T make a $100 suit for $49!" How does that fellow know I CAN'T do it?
He doesn't know what he is talking about, but he assumes the right to express an opinion just the same —and that's what gives me the Willies—if you know what I mean.

Listen—there are certain tailors who make only a few suits for rich men—men who can pay big money
—and those tailors get big prices for every garment.
Why, I know some of them who make more profit out of a suit than I charge for the garment. I know that, and you know it, too. All right—I DON'T WANT TO MAKE A BIG PROFIT OUT OF ANYBODY. This is a free country and if I want to make clothes for the smallest kind of a profit I guess I can do it, can't I?
You haven't any kick against that, have you?

All right—now listen: I have just bought from the world's finest woolen mills, elegant fabrics—all wool—the very kind of Suits and Overcoats for which the high price tailors ask $100 and up—and I AM NOW MAKING CLOTHES TO ORDER out of these very fabrics for only $49—and I am giving Extra Pants FREE with every suit, too!

I don't care what the smart Alecks say. I AM doing the very thing they say I CAN'T do—and if you don't believe it, COME IN AND SEE.

And, I will make for only $39 the very Suits and Overcoats other tailors ask $50 to $60 for. DON'T DOUBT without investigating. I guarantee to satisfy you in every way absolutely. And you get the Extra Pants FREE with every suit—no matter what you pay.
Bring the coupon appearing below to my store TODAY or TOMORROW and I will allow you $5, for helping me to find out which newspaper is the best puller.

Yours truly,

MARINE BAND TO BE FEATURE OF TREE SERVICES

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

At their luncheon yesterday at the Stanley hotel, the business men of Rogers Park and members of Kiwanis completed plans for the ceremony Oct. 23 at the city line between Rogers Park and Evanston—on the lake shore, when a twenty foot globe elm, the first tree on the Memory road to Milwaukee, will be planted.

The Great Lakes band of twenty-eight pieces will furnish the music and will play after the unveiling of the tree, which is in memory of Chicago's unknown dead in the late war. Members of the women's auxiliary and the auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will unveil the tree, which will be wrapped in a great silk flag, during the speeches.

Notables Invited to Speak.

Mayor William Hale Thompson and Judge Landis have been asked to deliver short speeches and Capt. Daniel W. Wurthebaugh, commandant at Great Lakes, will make an address. The program, which will begin promptly at 2:30, will last a half hour.

At 2 o'clock a parade will form in front of the Howard theater, at the Howard avenue elevated station, and

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The woman's auxiliary of Eaton-Priddy post No. 111, American Legion, will meet at a luncheon at Field's tomorrow at 1 p. m. Women eligible for membership in a Legion auxiliary are invited to join. Phone Mrs. Robert A. Lutz, president, Midway 6864.

Forest B. Gore, a patient in the ex-service men's ward in the Dreasey Boulevard hospital, wishes to locate and communicate with Frederick M. Leach of Chicago, a former patient at the hospital.

Mars-sur-Ailler post No. 270 will meet tomorrow in Field's tearoom. The report of the delegates to the recent convention and the nomination of an executive committee will take place.

led by the Great Lakes band will proceed to the planting place. C. W. Ferguson, president of the Rogers Park Kiwanis, will have charge of the program and introduce the speakers.

Bowler to Mark Start. A six ton boulder of black flint has been chosen to mark this beginning of the eighty-five mile Memory road. In it will be imbedded a bronze plate 12x18 inches, eulogizing the services of the unknown soldier who died in the late war.

Dr. Patrick Maccher of Rogers Park, one of the most active workers in the tree campaign, announced yesterday that the Rogers Park Woman's club is doing much toward the tree planting and already eleven trees have been donated, to be planted on Nov. 11, the country-wide planting day.

Schools Handle 30% More Pupils by Relay

The relay system of classes in Chicago schools, made necessary by the increase in enrollment this year, enables each school to handle 30 per cent more pupils than ordinarily. Supt. Peter A. Mortenson announced yesterday. The system provides that when one class leaves a room another takes its place immediately.

Arrested Second Time in 3 Months for Auto Theft

For the second time in three months Lawrence Dougherty, alleged leader of a band of automobile thieves, was arrested last night by Sergts. Neary, Cox and McDonald. Charles Katz and Harry Kiefer, captured in Urbana, Ill., with a stolen machine, told the detectives that Dougherty had hired them to drive the car to St. Louis.

GOLD SEAL CONGOLEUM WEEK

Only 2 More Days of this Big Money-Saving Sale

Rugs of Rare Beauty to Brighten Up Every Room in the Home

Here we can only tell you of the beautiful new Congoleum Rug patterns. For to fully appreciate their artistry of design and coloring you must go to your dealer and see the rugs themselves.

Patterns for Every Room

There you will find designs to grace any room in the house—colors that will blend harmoniously with any scheme of decoration. And all in floor-coverings that possess that delightful practicality so dear to the heart of the American housewife.

All Congoleum patterns are the exclusive creations of some of the best carpet and rug designers with studios in Paris, London and New York. Unless you are familiar with the genuine material you probably have no idea that such beautiful patterns could be produced in anything but expensive woven rugs.

So Easy to Clean

The rare beauty of Congoleum Gold-Seal Art-Rugs is more than "skin deep." Remarkably durable, the bright colors are fade-proof; the smooth, waterproof surface will not absorb grease. Just a light going-over with a damp mop keeps the surface sanitary—clean as a new pin.

Lies Flat Without Fastening

Nor is it any trouble to lay Congoleum—it lies flat on the floor without fastening of any kind. This beauty, which you would expect only in expensive woven rugs, and this durability, are still obtainable at amazingly low prices.

Beautiful, Low-priced Rugs for Some Room in Every Home

Congoleum Gold-Seal Art-Rugs possess so many desirable features, aside from their economy, that every housekeeper is sure to find one or two places in her home where this modern floor-covering will demonstrate its superiority over all other types of moderate-priced floor-coverings.

Gold-Seal Congoleum by-the-yard 69c per square yard

Gold-Seal Congoleum Floor-Covering is made in a variety of designs appropriate for kitchen, pantry, bathroom, hall—wherever an attractive low-priced floor-covering is desired.

The Gold Seal has come to mean much to housewives because of its broad guarantee of "satisfaction or your money back." They realize what it means to buy a sanitary, easy-to-clean, handsome "all-over" floor-covering, every yard of which is guaranteed to wear and give entire satisfaction.

Comes in the usual two-yard width and in a special width of three yards.

Constipation mean anything in your family?

A little of KELLOGG'S BRAN eaten each day will work wonders

Insist upon Kellogg's -the original Bran cooked and krumbled in the green and red package

Constipation can be blamed for about 90 per cent of bodily illness. Pills and cathartics aggravate delicate conditions caused by this ailment.

BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is nature's health food that will not only relieve constipation, but permanently prevent constipation if it is eaten regularly! Bran stimulates and mechanically sweeps the intestinal tract. Your physician will indorse Kellogg's Bran for constipation.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delightfully palatable! Every member of your family will like it, either as a cereal or mixed with their favorite cereal—or, it can be prepared in endless appetizing ways. (See recipes on package.)

Kellogg's
the original BRAN-cooked and krumbled

Kellogg's BRAN MUFFINS
14 cup sugar; shortening also of an egg. Cream shortening and sugar together. Add to this—1 egg, 1 cup sour milk (or cream milk), 1 cup Kellogg's Bran, 1½ cups flour, 1 level teaspoon soda (or two teaspoons of baking powder if sweet milk is used), pinch of salt. Mix well. This will make one dozen muffins.

Such Values Seldom Found in Handsome FUR WRAPS

EXCLUSIVE model Wraps and Coats of rare and beautiful Furs include Eastern mink, broadtail, caracul, mole and seal, and also combinations of these Furs. There are all the season's newest designs, some flaring cape effects, others following the slim, straight silhouette. The linings are rich chiffon velvets, chiffons, crepes, broche silks and soft satins. A special purchase brings this collection at remarkably low prices, considering the superlative quality of the Wraps.

Sixth Floor, North, Wabash

Regal indeed is the ermine Cape, sketched second to right. Its lining of chiffon velvet is finished with ermine tails.

Such a kolinsky Wrap as the one sketched at the right is rarely equaled for elegance and dignity. One of its exquisite features is the lining of sheer striped chiffon crepe over green satin.

Above in sketch at left is a most luxurious Wrap of Eastern mink with soft wide collar and mandarin sleeves. The lining is of kitten's ear satin, scalloped and flounced.

Next is a very handsome Wrap of broadtail, bloused model with black fox collar. The lining of Canton crepe has monkey fur trimming.

Hand bags Special—$6 and $7.50

THE wonder is that such a number of capacious pockets could be tucked away in so small a bag! It must have been designed for those who demand smartness of appearance combined with a high degree of usefulness. And it has a new and unusual way of hanging from one's wrist by means of an attractive silk tasseled cord.

Bags of morocco are priced at $6.

Bags of brown or gray beaver-calf, black pin-seal, panther and fine long grain cobra may be had at $7.50.

ILLINOIS IS PREPARING FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Chicago Utilities
Expansion Program

BY O. A. MATHEW
In solving the problem of unemployment this winter, Illinois is planning to do so in a way that is not generally appreciated. The program of the public utilities alone calls for a disbursement of $10,000,000. The work of the Chicago utility will provide jobs for thousands of workers. The plan is to build a new power plant and office building and employment for many thousands of workmen.

To Let Big Contract
Within a week the largest contract ever given for a Chicago utility will be signed. This Illinois Merchants Trust which will occupy the building by Jackson boulevard, La Salle street, and Chicago street, will cost $11,000,000 and $12,000,000. The work of demolishing Grand Pacific Hotel is under way. Then work on the big bank and office building will be started.

Chicago's second largest project is the $4,000,000 one story London Guarantee building on the Dearborn at the south end of the avenue bridge. Work under way on the foundation.

Building Operations
The Union Liberty building at Clark street is well along. A $1,000,000 project is expected next spring. Construction on the eight stories to the four story Boyce Dearborn and Illinois. Chicago's hotel boom is along. It slackened temporarily because of the war, but is now making a comeback. The $1,500,000 Briar apartment hotel, the $2,000,000 Churchill, and the $1,000,000 East End Park hotel, are other big hotel projects announced during the next few months. The next which will involve millions of dollars.

Apartment houses construction is gathering momentum during the winter and in the last few months millions of dollars worth of new housing have been gotten under way. The total cost of the new housing is estimated at $10,000,000.

Edison Company's Expansion
The building expansion program of the Edison Company is totaling between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 this year, and is the erection of generating stations. The principal plant construction at 10th street and a met river. More than 2,000 men are employed in the work.

The company officials say that the plans for the additional buildings and equipment in the early months of 1922. The Edison Company's 1922 program includes a disbursement of $18,000,000, of which $10,000,000 will be used in Chicago. Of this amount, $1,500,000 is for the installation of a switchboard in the Edison building at 111 West Washington street. The installation of a new switching telephone in the Edison building at a cost of $5,000. 4,000 men are being employed in the installation of the machinery for the Edison building which will take the place of the old building. The Edison building is being built on the site of the old building. The Edison building is being built on the site of the old building.

1,500 Busy on Gas

ILLINOIS IS BUSY PREPARING JOBS FOR UNEMPLOYED

Chicago Utilities Rush Expansion Programs.

BY O. A. MATHER.

In solving the problem of unemployment this winter, Illinois, and particularly Chicago, will be in the forefront. The extent to which the large corporations, particularly the public utilities, are already engaged in expanding or remodeling their plants, or are planning to do so in the immediate future, is not generally appreciated.

The program of the public service corporations alone calls for an expenditure of upwards of $50,000,000 and the greater part of this will be expended in the Chicago district. Such work will provide jobs for several thousands of workers. Then, too, residence and office building in Chicago is picking up and this will entail the expenditure of many more millions and employment for additional thousands of workmen.

Let Big Contract This Week.

Within a week the largest contract ever given for a Chicago office building will be signed. This will be the Illinois Merchants Trust building, which will occupy the block bounded by Jackson boulevard, La Salle street, Quincy street, and Clark street. The cost of this building will run between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000.

The work of demolishing the old Grand Pacific hotel is under way and is expected to occupy about three months. Then work on the first half of the big bank and office edifice will be started.

Chicago's second largest office building project is the $4,000,000 twenty-story London Guaranties and Accident structure on the site of Fort Dearborn at the south end of the Michigan avenue bridge. Work is now under way on the foundations.

Building Operations Hum.

The steel work of the fifteen story Union Liberty building at 8-16 North Clark street is well along and this $1,000,000 project is expected to be finished next spring. Construction has begun on the eight stories to be added to the four story Boyce building at Dearborn and Illinois.

Chicago's hotel boom is still plunging along. It is slackening temporarily, but several big projects are now under way, notably the $1,500,000 Embassy, the $1,500,000 Briar apartments, and the $2,000,000 Churchill. Work will start soon on the proposed $2,000,000 East End Park hotel, and several other big hotel projects are to be announced during the next few weeks which will involve millions in construction values.

Edison Company's Extension.

The building expenditures of the Commonwealth Edison company, which are totaling between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 this year, are being put into the erection of generating and substations. The principal plant is under construction at 190th street and the Calumet river. More than 2,500 men are employed in the work.

The company officials stated yesterday that plans for the erection of additional buildings and equipment during the early months of 1922 at a cost of $1,500,000 have been made.

The Illinois Bell Telephone company's 1922 program includes the expenditure of $18,000,000, of which $12,000,000 will be in Chicago projects. Of this amount, $1,500,000 will be expended in completing the machine switchboard installation.

The installation of new machine switching telephones in the plant at 311 West Washington street is now in progress at a cost of $5,500,000. About 4,000 men are being employed in the installation of the machine switching, or automatic telephone equipment, which will take the place of two existing exchanges, the Central and State offices.

1,500 Busy on Gas Plant.

Another big development is that of the By-Products Coke company, an allied corporation of the Peoples Gas company, which is constructing for the service of the latter concern a gas production plant on the drainage canal west of Crawford avenue, at a cost of $1,400,000. About 1,500 men are now working on the project and additional numbers will be added soon.

The plant is being built in two sections, one known as the water gas and the other as the coal gas section. The coal gas section will carbonate about 2,000 tons of coal a day, producing 12,000,000 feet of coal gas and 1,200 tons of coke. The water gas plant will produce 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

State Utilities Expanding.

Throughout Illinois public utility companies are spending this year approximately between $70,000,000 and $100,000,000 on new buildings and equipment. Of this amount $51,350,000 was put into projects during the first six months of 1921.

Of the amount of work going on by large corporations in territory adjacent to Chicago, $4,312,400 is being spent this year. The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, serving Evanston, Oak Park and other towns nearby is spending $2,900,000. The same company will start work soon on the flats north of Waukegan with the construction of an electric plant to cost $18,000,000.

The Chicago & West Towns railway, serving Oak Park, Maywood, Cicero, etc., is putting in new track and other equipment at a cost of $339,000. The Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee electric is expending $98,400 for the same purpose. New work for the West-Union United Gas and Electric company, serving the Fox River valley district, is spending $1,875,000.

Practically all of the work is being done by Chicago labor.

HERE AND THERE IN THE THEATERS

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.

THE cops do their own entertaining this year and it will be well to examine your consciences before attending the annual exercises of the Police Benevolent association, which start with a spectacle calculated to strike terror to the heart of the evildoer.

As the curtain rises at the Auditorium the vast stage is a sea of bluecoats—approximately a million of them, I should say—an impressive area of blue and silver that begins at the footlights and extends to the back drop, crowding the scenery into insignificance. This is the new police band, the biggest thing of its kind since Sousa was at Great Lakes, and they get things under way with a fine blare, aided by nine stalwart sons of Erin in songs both loud and sentimental.

It is an auspicious beginning to a lively show, compounded for the occasion by Ernie Young, largely out of material from one of his revues at the Marigold. There are many pretty girls in costumes, sometimes discreet and sometimes otherwise; parades on a broad runway; spandrels, live dancing and an intermittent succession of vaudeville acts, good, bad, and indifferent.

You get a little of everything, and if you don't find something you like it's your own look. No fault was found by the enthusiastic crowd which filled the theater last night.

Fred Stone will appear in a new role at the Garrick Sunday afternoon—that of the central figure in "The Gunman," a skit by R. H. Burnside about which nothing has been made known but which, one suspects, pokes a bit of fun at Holbrook Blinn and "The Bad Man."

The occasion is a benefit performance for the Chicago Osteopathic hospital. Eddie Cantor is marshaling the players who will take part, and these will include Nan Halperin, Harry Kelly, Lew Hearn, and others from the cast of "Midnight Rounders." Dorothy Jordan and Cecil Sale from the Majestic; Ciccolini, Cecil Cunningham, and others from the Apollo; and Aunt Jeannette, the "coon shouter" of George White's "Scandals."

The North Shore Players inaugurate their second season at the Wilmette Woman's club tonight with a program of three short plays—Alice Gerstenberg's satire, "The Pot Boilers," John Drinkwater's little tragedy, "The Storm," and "Where but in America," a comedy by Oscar Wolf. The performance will be repeated tomorrow night in Wilmette, and perhaps later in other north shore suburbs.

DEFER TRIAL OF 'STOOL PIGEON' ON
WOMAN'S CHARGE

A continuance was granted George Johnson, alias Foster, who furnishes the detective bureau with information about criminals, when his case was called yesterday before Judge John R. Newcomb in the South Clark street court. He is charged with assaulting Mrs. Lydia Peterson, 208 East Forty-sixth street.

Mrs. Peterson had complained to First Assistant State's Attorney Edward S. Day that Johnson was a stool pigeon, and had arranged the arrest of her brother, Robert Conybear, by inviting him to ride in a stolen automobile. Sgt. Norton "happened" to pass and Johnson's work was completed.

A grand jury investigation was started. Mrs. Peterson was beaten by two men. She identified Johnson. She had trouble causing his arrest, due to his connection with the police department, she said.

Find Policeman Not Guilty of Charges Made in 1919

The city civil service commission yesterday entered a finding of not guilty in the cases of Sergeants John Walsh, Thomas H. Lynch, and Edward A. McCormick, and Patrolman Frank Freemuth, accused with former Capt. Thomas Cronin of permitting disorderly resorts to operate in the Warren avenue police district.

TWO 'DEAD' MEN
'STALK' BACK TO SORROWING KIN

Husband and Brother Are Found Alive After Years

Two men came back from the dead yesterday. One found a sister, who had been lost to him for thirty years. The other remarried the mother of his daughter, last seen as a little girl but now grown to womanhood.

It was actually necessary for Victor Dahl to die in order to find his sister. Records of the county morgue show he is dead and buried.

He and his sister came to Chicago from Sweden thirty-two years ago. He opened a paintshop. His work frequently took him out of the city. Once while away his sister moved and he could not find her.

Woman Claims the Body.

Last June a man was found dead in his room at 1160 Milton street. A letter in the room was addressed to Victor Dahl. Mrs. J. H. Blair of 220 St. John's court claimed the body and had it buried.

A few days ago the real Dahl asked at the Milton street address for his friend, now dead, with whom he formerly roomed. He went to the morgue to see if the body had been properly buried. There he learned it had been claimed by Mrs. Blair.

"She said it was the body of her brother," morgue attendants told him. At the Blair home last night there was great rejoicing, for the real brother was back from the "dead" and once more was with his sister.

Find Husband Is Alive.

Samuel D. Patterson, wealthy business man of Michigan City, Ind., who disappeared years ago, is the second man to come back to life. After months of searching he was given up by his family and friends as dead. His wife, to hold a position with the Michigan Central railroad, obtained a divorce.

The Pattersons' little girl became a woman. Then came letters, secretly to a friend of the missing man. They told that Patterson was a successful sheep rancher in Montana. He wanted to be told of his wife and child.

POLICE HEAR OF DYNAMITE PLOT
AT POSTOFFICE

Following a warning received early yesterday morning that the Chicago postoffice was to be blown up, more than 100 deputy United States marshals, secret service agents, and city policemen stood watch over the building to prevent, if possible, a repetition of the fatal bombing on Sept. 4, 1918.

Chief of Police Pasmorris received a letter written in Italian which stated that the writer knew of a plot to blow up the building on Oct. 13.

The chief immediately ordered several squads of men to guard the building. A thorough search was made of the building by agents from the department of justice, but, contrary to rumors, no explosive was found. All entrances to the building were watched and every person entering with a package was made to display its contents.

The parcel post section was especially well guarded. Under orders from James N. Piper, assistant superintendent of mails in charge of that division, every package coming into the office was scrutinized by bomb experts.

Charles Nagle, custodian of the federal building, announced last night that a strict guard would be maintained for the next few days and that no one carrying a package would be allowed on the elevators in the building.

Crime Commissioner
Visits Detective Bureau

Henry Barrett Chamberlin of the Chicago crime commission visited the detective bureau last night, accompanied by Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes, to observe the crowded conditions in the new building. The commission is conducting a new building to house the Central station, the detective bureau, the South Clark street station, and the identification bureau.

HER PHANTOM LOVER
by ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

INSTALLMENT XVII.

"WE'RE GLAD TO SEE YOU, DORIA."

Yes, even the dregs of life could be palatable; they might even be sugar-sweet.

It was the first day since the prison gates had opened and let him out that Ronald West-haven forgot entirely the horror of those ten blank years. They had been years without hope, a death-life existence to which death itself would have come as a joyous relief.

And now that was all behind him. The hand of God had been at work in his behalf. How could he have ever doubted? Yet often doubt had added the culminating horror to his wretched plight. It had been a grim farce when of a Sunday the good man in black with his white starched shirt front and hat preached and exhorted.

"Hold fast to Christ. He suffered for you. He suffered a death which should be saved. You have only to come to Him and He will save you."

The moist eyed old Methodist parson in that foreign prison chapel, how he had preached and worn himself out. And there they sat, row upon row, in their soul destroying uniforms; chunky, expressionless faces staring; the shaven heads suggesting that a plague of vermin had broken out. The bolts and bars; the sour prison smells; the lined corridors; the hopelessness of it all. And the preacher had exhorted; the vacant faces stared up at him while thoughts turned inward, and Ronald Westhaven had nearly lost his soul.

But today he did not think of that at all. Lovely old Rockport; this enchanting little home he had contrived for himself; best of all, these youngsters, his own amongst them, having a beautiful home—there more than contented him; they made him forget.

The dining room faced the narrow High street where the trams clanged and there was always a congestion of traffic.

It was a low celled room with beams overhead and walls discolored by a bright yellow. He had bought gray old china and quite a lot of oak furniture and covered his easy chairs with blue flowered cretonne. Color had seemed somehow to be essential.

Mrs. Bigge, delighted with company and particularly so because of his young lordship, gave them a splendid lunch. It began with shrimps and winkles, and then came a cut from a cold Derby round attended by mustard pickles and flowery potatoes, followed by apple tart and rhubarb.

Crystal and Ted drank ginger pop, and Ronald and Andrew had some of the good local brewed ale. Crystal had tidied herself up quite respectably, although there was not much to be done to her frock except send it to a cleaner's, and Ted had washed his face and hands, but quite forgot his hair.

His great anxiety was to bring Andrew Crouch to the favorable notice of "Mr. Barry."

"Of course it will be years and years before I can say a thing about the blessed show," he entreated earnestly, by this time completely soused in ginger beer. "But Andrew's the biggest bet at Westhaven's—next to you, of course. Look how he's kept the flag flying. Where should we be in sport but for Andrew?"

"Nowhere," Mr. Barry agreed gravely. Andrew threw back his head and roared with laughter. Crystal found herself watching the play of his throat muscles. He was strong and beautiful, she thought; an unusual young man. He hadn't been set up by Ted's wholesome adoration or inclined to take advantage of this

STOLEN AIRSHIP TURNS 'PHANTOM' SKY WANDERER

Bobs Up Here and There,
but Can't Be Found.

The story of a stolen "phantom" airplane and its mysterious pilot was presented to the police of the middle west last night.

The airplane—it is a Curtiss JN4D valued at $4,000—has disappeared and reappeared regularly for the last month. The whereabouts of its former pilot, Marvin E. Hendley, are unknown.

The ship was last heard from in Indianapolis. Late Wednesday night some one who said he was Hendley called the police of that city and told them his airplane had been stolen from the Speedway field. The pilot disappeared. The police learned the ship had never landed on the Speedway field.

Chicago Police Notified.

The Chicago police were notified of the phantom ship last night by Al Johnson, president of the Johnson Airplane and Supply company of Dayton. He said he sold the ship to a coal company in West Virginia six weeks ago, and had loaned the services of Hendley to the same concern.

"After two weeks' use they decided that they didn't want the ship," said Mr. Johnson over the long distance telephone. "He told them to have Hendley fly it to Dayton. They say he asked them for a day off to visit some friends."

Then Ship Disappears.

"That day the ship disappeared. Then from time to time we got reports alleged to come from Hendley. The reports would come from little out of the way towns and would tell of motor trouble."

"Then in three or four days we would get another report, this time from another town. We don't know what to make of it."

The police were asked to search every flying field in Chicago. The ship is motored with a Curtiss 05 eight cylinder motor. It is a natural finished color with khaki rubber.

Johnson said he had started two pilots out over the country in airplanes to search for the missing machine.

CHECKER CAB
UNTIL TUESDAY

The bitter legal fight that was expected yesterday between attorneys for the Checker Cab company and the city did not develop. Judge Ira Ryner continued the case until Tuesday. No arguments were heard.

Assistant Attorney General Matthew Mills, in a statement issued yesterday, asserted that the attorney general's office has never given the taxicab company a "clean bill of health."

Police Captain Thinks He Has Nabbed Bank Robbers

Believing he has the five men who robbed a bank at Dyer, Ind., a few days ago, Capt. John Naughton telegraphed last night to the sheriff and the bank representatives, asking them to come to Chicago and identify the prisoners. The five were arrested—after a hectic automobile chase—when Frank J. Miller, a building and loan banker at 3205 South Morgan street, reported the men were acting suspiciously near his office.

FARM AND GARDEN

USING GRAIN SEPARATOR TO HULL SOY BEANS.

Soy bean growers, who are trying the crop this year for the first time, have a new tool to help them. It is a threshing out of the beans. Farmers who have been growing them for several years find that almost any separator used to thresh wheat and oats can be equipped at a small cost to thresh soy beans satisfactorily.

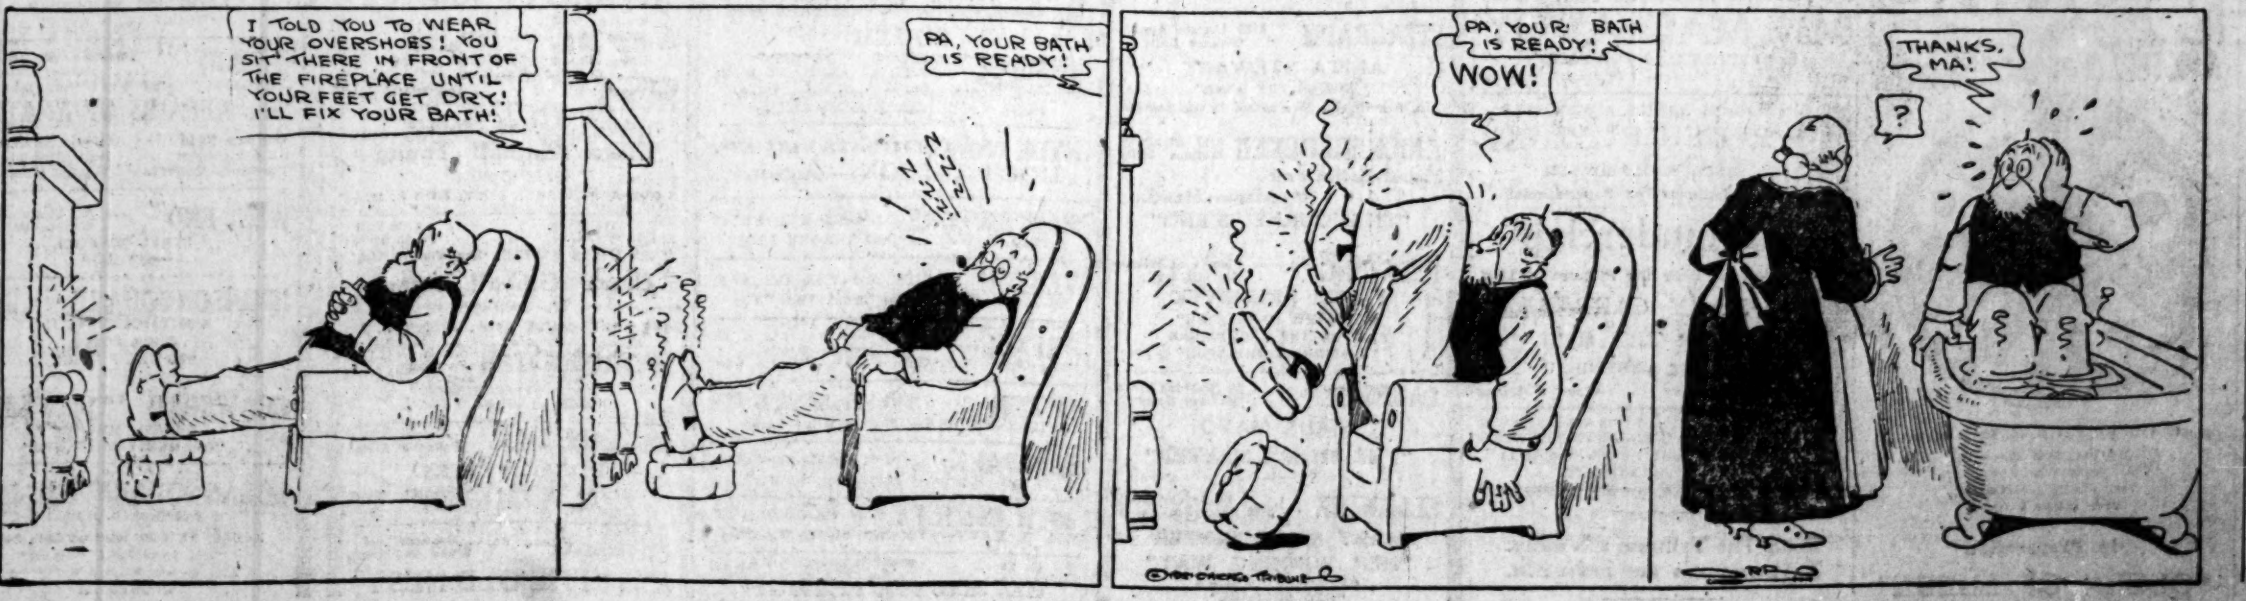

Shelling them by hand, even just a few for seed, is a tedious and laborious task, but some growers do this because they split the beans in running them through an ordinary separator. In fact, the great difficulty most of them have in adjusting the machine is to get the beans through without splitting them and at the same time get the heavy straw through the blower.

W. E. Hugel, Tolono, Ill., who has had years of experience in growing and thrashing soy beans, says it is speed and not teeth that split the seeds as they go through the separator. He makes a bean huller out of an ordinary wheat separator by using a large pulley on the cylinder shaft of the separator, reducing the speed of the cylinder to 320 to 330 revolutions a minute, and using other large pulleys to keep the feeder, shaker, blower and fan running at normal speed. This reduces the splitting to a minimum.

He also explains that when the cylinder is running slow three or four rows of concave teeth should be put in as all the beans will be thrashed out of the pods and the straw torn into fine pieces, making better feed for live stock.

Dry soy beans keep nicely. Moisture causes the beans to heat, but Mr. Hugel has piled them four feet deep in the bin with good results. He watches them for at least two weeks after they are put in storage to be sure they did not contain enough moisture to cause heating. Allow the beans to dry in the field before they are thrashed. Put them through the fanning mill as soon as they come from the separator to remove the hull beans, weed seeds and other foreign matter.

RESERVE BANKS GIVE NEW SIGNS OF TRADE GAINS

BY O. A. MATHER.

Gradual improvement in business and industry, together with the comfortable financial position of the country's banking system and ability to meet the needs of any revival, are evidenced in the weekly statements of the federal reserve banks.

Business betterment is reflected in a slightly increased demand for credit, bringing about a moderate expansion in loans. This, in turn, has resulted temporarily, at least, in somewhat firmer money rates. The strong financial condition is shown in the fact that reserves are still at nearly the high mark of the year, which means the best position in several years.

Increase in Deposits.

The outstanding features of the consolidated statement of the twelve federal reserve banks are increases in borrowings and deposits. Bills purchased in the open market expanded $13,323,000. Loans increased $1,235,000, those on government obligations expanding $6,625,000, but those on commercial paper declining $2,640,000. Total bills on hand increased $2,608,000. Holdings of government bonds and treasury certificates of indebtedness increased $1,018,000. Total deposits increased $1,132,000. Gold and total reserves declined $2,677,000 and $6,095,000, respectively.

Total deposits expanded $28,523,000, the member banks' reserve credits increasing $23,550,000 and government deposits declining $4,734,000. Federal reserve note circulation reached $6,002,000. The ratio of total deposits to net deposits and federal reserve note liabilities combined fell to 88.5 per cent from 89 per cent in the preceding week, while the ratio of gold reserves to note circulation, after setting aside 35 per cent against deposit liabilities, fell to 91.8 from 92.2 per cent.

East Reverses Most Activity.

The largest degree of industrial revival continues to occur in the east and this fact again is reflected in the statement of the New York federal reserve bank. Loans expanded $3,931,000, those on government obligations and commercial paper increasing $2,246,000 and $1,585,000, respectively. Bills bought increased $1,664,000. Total bills on hand expanded $50,922,000. Total earning assets increased $47,031,000. Gold and total reserves declined $2,093,900 and $1,256,000, respectively.

Total deposits expanded $19,331,000, being entirely the result of the member banks' reserve credits increasing $23,550,000. Federal reserve note circulation declined $3,542,000. The ratio of total deposits to net deposits and federal reserve note liabilities combined fell to 77 per cent from 80 per cent in the preceding week.

Chicago System Improves.

The statement of the Chicago federal reserve bank shows slight further improvement. Loans increased $1,018,000, those on government obligations declining $5,046,000, but those on commercial paper increasing $1,028,000. Bills bought declined slightly and total bills on hand reached $4,217,000. Total earning assets declined $4,727,000. Gold and total reserves increased $4,675,000 and $5,855,000, respectively.

Total deposits expanded $1,504,000, being entirely the result of the member banks' reserve credits increasing $2,774,000. Federal reserve note circulation remained about stationary. The ratio of total reserves to net deposits and federal reserve note liabilities combined rose to 70 from 69.3 per cent in the preceding week.

CHOICE CATTLE PRICES ADVANCE ON BRISK DEMAND

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Prices for live stock in Chicago yesterday were:

WEIGHTS	PRICE
Bulk of sales	8.50 to 8.60
Heavy butchers	8.50 to 8.60
Butchers, 1000 to 1200 lbs.	8.50 to 8.60
Heavy and mixed packing	8.40 to 8.50
Medium and heavy packing	8.30 to 8.40
Light packing, 1000 to 1200 lbs.	8.20 to 8.30
Light mixed, 1000 to 1200 lbs.	8.10 to 8.20
Slags, subject to dockage	8.00 to 8.10

Choice cattle met with a brisk call again yesterday with still another high point for the year to date. Prices ruled strong to 25c higher and 22 head of 1055 lb Hereford yearlings went to Swift for shipment to New York at $12.15. Next highest was $11.15, with 1224 lb steers at $10.50. Butcher stock ruled strong, calves 25c higher and feeding cattle 10c to 25c higher. Excessive offerings in the hog end of the trade forced values unevenly lower, the top at $5.55, and general average at $7.70, both standing 6c lower than Tuesday, high day of the week. Many hogs were held off the market, resulting in a strong finish, with 17,000 expected today.

Heavyweight hogs sold rather indifferently, most of the packers seemingly having orders for meat requiring the lighter weights. Shipping orders were larger, notwithstanding the fact that eastern markets were sharply lower.

Closing Lamb Prices Strong.
Starting in weak to 50c lower, the trade in sheep and lambs improved toward the finish, some western lambs reaching $9.25, the week's previous top. Native lambs sold largely at $8.75 to $9.00. Some $1.15 range stock sold to a feeder at $7.85, a new top for the week for this class. No aged sheep sold above $5.00.

Seven western markets received 30,000 cattle, 41,000 hogs, and 43,000 sheep, against 34,000 cattle, 59,000 hogs, and 33,000 sheep, the previous Thursday, and 29,000 cattle, 48,000 hogs, and 45,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 30,000 cattle, 17,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep, against 3,190 cattle, 15,119 hogs, and 5,610 sheep the corresponding Friday a year ago.

PLAN $1,000,000 HOUSE FOR SHEPHERD ROAD

BY AL CHASE.

A $1,000,000 valdeville and movie theater is planned for the southwest corner of Sheridan road and Lawrence avenue, as a result of Abraham Gumbrich, owner of a string of film houses, leasing the 100x140 property at that corner. Mr. Gumbrich will pay Mrs. Anna G. Dawson $12,500 a year for the term, but has an option to buy the land within fifteen years for $150,000.

The present improvements, an eight-story building, were purchased for $600,000. The lease is dated January 1, 1921, and expires December 31, 1925. The rental figures a valuation of $2,500 a front foot for the theater and $1,750 a foot for the Lawrence avenue frontage. Although the building has yet been engaged, Mr. Gumbrich says work will start as soon as building conditions improve. J. F. Cornwell, vice president of H. O. Stone & Co., and manager of their uptown office, represented all parties. The Chicago realtors met yesterday afternoon in a special train for Peoria, where the annual convention of the state association of real estate boards will hold a three day session.
